FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 7, 1884.

THE PEOPLE of Canada united yesterday in returning thanks to the great Giver of all good for the bountiful harvest and other mercies so liberally bestowed on them during the past year. There is every reason for the people of this Dominion thus publicly to express their thanks when they consider the immunity from famine, war, pestilence and other disasters with which they have been blessed. The people of Deseronto have special reasons for gratitude when they read of the great depression in business and the consequent suffering elsewhere, even in Canada. Labour has been abundant and every man has had the opportunity of earning his bread. There has been an absence of labour troubles and the best of feeling has existed between employers and workmen, evidencing a state of affairs alike creditable to both. This shows that there has been a manifold performance of duty, and that in every rank there has been that quality of character so necessary for the prosecution of every enterprise. When employers and workmen entertain a mutual regard and respect for each other's interest and a consideration for common frailties, there will be generally, even despite the efforts of mischief-mongers, the most friendly relations. The industry, skill and enterprise of our busy population have been blessed by the Author of all good, and such favor surely merited most devout expressions of thankfulness from every resident of the village.

BRITAIN'S GREATNESS.

AN AMERICAN DEMOCRATIC JOURNAL'S TESTIMONY.

The Chicago Herald says:—Let us not delude ourselves with fictitious greatness. There is another country at whose greatness we may well pause for a moment. Its area exceeds eight and a half million square miles. The basis of its power is not land, but water. Its greatness is maritime, and its coast line is twenty-eight thousand five hundred miles long. It lies on both sides of the equator, and its boundaries touch the extremes of heat and cold. Its unincultivated area, which can be made to feed twenty millions without the aid of United States, covers millions of square miles. It contains one hundred thousand square miles of forest, which are being joyously preserved while ours are being ruthlessly sacrificed. Its population amounts to 315,000,000 souls, including pretty nearly all the races known to man. Its revenue for government amounts to more than a thousand million dollars annually, only one fourth of which is levied in direct taxation. It has nearly a million men under arms. It has one policeman for every sixteen square miles of its entire area. Its 248 war vessels are all in constant readiness for service. Its merchant navy consists of 2,000 ships manned by 270,000 sailors. Its sea-going tonnage amounts to eight and a half millions. It possesses in abundance all other powers on the globe, and nearly equals their combined total in sailing vessels. Forty-nine per cent of the carrying power of the world is under its flag. Nearly half the entire yearly cargo of the world is under that flag. More than half the ship earnings from freights and passengers belong to it. Two-thirds of the tonnage annually built belongs to it.

The banks of that empire transact one-third the business of the entire world. Its manufactures comprise one-third those of all Europe. It uses 30 per cent of the horse-power of the world. Its enormous fleet, which it can add to in any emergency, is an investment of its own earnings, amounting to only 9 per cent of its wealth. It is the wealthiest state in the world, and its wealth has been the basis of its power. Its name is Great Britain; and it abounds after a full and fair trial, the economic policy, which the United States fatuously cling to. It is the ship of the world. It offers its wares in every port; it takes on its articles offered in exchange, and the cargo it ships carried back to the wharves carried it as much as those they had borne away.

New Dry Kilns

One of the greatest improvements, made by "The Rathbun Company" during the past few months, has been the erection of three of the celebrated Chicago Lumber Kilns. They have been constructed in the most thorough manner, every detail being carefully looked to, and the result is that they now have the most complete structures for the purpose ever erected in Canada or the United States. They are located upon the Factory yard, at the west end of the village, and the large draft chimneys, seventy-five feet high, capped with handsome iron tops, are seen for a long distance from all directions, and are a very prominent object when approaching from the Bay, and the source of many inquiries from visitors, as to what they are, and their purpose.

The constantly increasing demand for dry lumber, induced "The Rathbun Company" to make this improvement, and now that they are completed, and working, it will enable them to supply large quantities of perfectly dry flooring, siding, etc., etc., besides increasing the manufacture of doors, mouldings, and other Sash Factory products. Each kiln is eighteen feet wide by twenty feet long, and will hold forty thousand feet B. M. of lumber. The heat is generated by superheated steam, which circulates through about one mile of each iron pipe, and by a system of draft doors and dampers, the temperature can be regulated, as required, from 150° to 200° Fahrenheit. To prevent the escaping of lumber, or drying too fast on the outside, which has been a serious objection to former kilns, there are numerous small jets of steam introduced directly into the lumber chamber, which serve to keep the air moist, and the surface of the lumber in such a condition as to dry it much more perfectly than by any former method.

In connection with the kilns, and separated from them by the firewood, is a fine brick building, six twenty by fifty feet, containing two boilers, with superheaters, set with "The Jarvis Furnace," so constructed as to burn wet refuse, sawdust, wood, etc., just as it comes from the saw mill, and with a most complete arrangement for dumping the fuel directly from the mill cars to the furnace doors. These boilers not only supply steam for the dry kilns, but also heat the entire Sash and Door Factory, the steam being conducted to it through a two inch iron pipe a distance of two hundred and fifty feet. There is also in the boiler house a powerful steam pump, with hose constantly attached for use in case of fire, which can at any time be started at short notice, and will prove a great fire protector for that end of the village. The whole is connected with the main line of "The Bay of Quinte Railway," by a complete system of tracks, that enables the lumber and fuel to be easily, quickly, and cheaply handled, and does away with the labor of several horses and carts. We understand that there are other improvements projected, which will put this important branch of "The Rathbun Co's" business, in a position second to none in the Dominion. Now up on us, we presume nothing further will be done until another season opens. Such improvements are a benefit and credit to the place, and are a substantial proof of the enterprise of "The Rathbun Company."

Mr. J. W. Crawford, of Deserontoville, paid us a pleasant visit on Tuesday.
Mr. Wm. Patterson kindly favors us with some of his beautiful Canadian paper.

Mr. J. M. Potras was called to Boston last Saturday by the illness of his youngest child who is with Mrs. Potras in that city.

Now that the schools are rapidly filling up with pupils for the winter term, it may not be inappropriate to appeal to parents to endeavor to aid the teacher, by seeing that the children attend punctually and regularly. In no other way can they hope to receive any benefit from the education imparted.
In Canada where we have to endure five months winter, the subject of furs especially to the ladies, is an important one. Above all furs in popular estimation stands the Persian Lamb; coming into general use only a few years ago it has become one of the most important of all materials in the winter outfit of a lady. Its economy, durability and good taste it is the favorite. The first and most important item in the selection of a Persian cap, muff or box is to get a good one. This can best be done by procuring them at the Big Store, Deseronto, Ont.

AYER'S Cherry Pectoral. No other complaints are so numerous in their attack as those affecting the throat and lungs; none so trifling with by the majority of sufferers. The ordinary cough or cold, resulting perhaps from a trifling or unimportant cause, is often but the beginning of a fatal sickness. AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL has proven its efficacy in a forty years' experience, and is a household name, and should be taken in all cases without delay.

A Terrible Cough Cured. "In 1857 I took a severe cold, which affected my lungs. I had a terrible cough, and passed nights after night without sleep. The doctors gave me up. I tried AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, which relieved my lungs, induced sleep, and afforded me the rest necessary for the recovery of my organs. By the continued use of the PECTORAL a permanent cure was effected. I am now 62 years old, hale and hearty, and am enabled your CHERRY PECTORAL saved me."
—THORACE FAIRBROTHER, Rochingham, Vt., July 15, 1882.

Croup.—A Mother's Tribute. "While in the country last winter my little boy, three years old, was taken with croup. It seemed as if he would die from strangueness. I bought a bottle of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, a bottle of which was always kept in the house. This was tried in small doses, and in ten days he was cured. I feel that the CHERRY PECTORAL had saved his life. Can you wonder how grateful I am to AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL?"
—J. W. WALKER,
130 West 124th St., New York, May 16, 1882.

I have used AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL for my family for several years, and do not think I have ever known it do more for me than it has done for my family. I have used it for my wife and children, and it has cured them of all colds and coughs and whooping cough, and I have never known it fail. I have used it for my wife and children, and it has cured them of all colds and coughs and whooping cough, and I have never known it fail. I have used it for my wife and children, and it has cured them of all colds and coughs and whooping cough, and I have never known it fail.

I suffered for eight years from Bronchitis, and after trying many remedies with no success, I was cured by the use of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL. I have used it for my wife and children, and it has cured them of all colds and coughs and whooping cough, and I have never known it fail. I have used it for my wife and children, and it has cured them of all colds and coughs and whooping cough, and I have never known it fail.

No one of an affection of the throat or lungs exists which cannot be cured by the use of AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL, and it will always cure when the disease is not already beyond the control of medicine.

Indian History.

To the Editor of the Tribune:

DEAR SIR,—In my last letter, I referred to the Ottawa Indians, and endeavored to trace them from the Atlantic until they settled at Lacapointe, Lake Superior, where they were found by the whites, who visited them not as friends, but in the attitude of an invading tribe. Surrounded on all sides by enemies, whom they denominated Nodowag, or Iroquois, Odjagameg, or Foxes, Abenaki, or Sioux, and Ojibweg. They date with certainty their first acquaintance with the new generations ago, and for a long time before this Montevinnakau (Lapointe) had formed their central town. Many of the chiefs, and old men firmly believe that this is the spot in which their ancestors have lived since "the world was new." It is only by their numerous false traditions that they can be traced as coming from the east, prior to their residence on the Island of Lacapointe. From their traditions it is evident that they once were familiar with the great salt ocean, and that they once lived on a great river,—again on a great lake, where they exterminated a powerful tribe they call the Munda; at last we find them on Lake Superior, from which place they have still pressed westward, for the past 250 years, till they occupied all the country about the head waters of the Mississippi, with the vast prairies to the west, and the dense forests of America to the east. Judging from the progress they have been making for 250 years, it must have taken eight or nine hundred years for this tribe, from the time they left the Atlantic, to assume their local position on this Continent. However, it is quite possible that they may have been driven west from the Atlantic by more powerful tribes with much more celerity than they have advanced since they reached Lake Superior. I have been informed by those who are familiar with Schoolcraft's History, that for a long time prior to their acquaintance with the white man, the Ojibwa branch of the Algonquin stock, of the aboriginal race of America, had been living on Lake Superior; their principal town was on the Island of Mouing-wun-shahing, and a narrow space of ground more than three miles in length, and two miles wide, judging from the vestiges still plainly visible—especially to be seen in the small growth of trees now covering the spot, compared to trees growing on other parts of the Island; and also in deep beaten paths, that a few years since were still visible in different parts of the Island. Besides the main body on the island, bands lived on different points of the lake shore, at the bays of Waig-waung-kong, Keko-wa-waung, Ko-puk-wa-wa, and other places; but it was with fear and trembling, for in those days the Ojibwas had many enemies, and sought to exterminate them. They lived chiefly by hunting and fishing, although some of the bands practiced the arts of agriculture, and raised large quantities of corn and potatoes. The forests on the main land opposite their village abounded in moose, deer, elk, bear, and the buffalo roved in herds within half a day's journey from the lake shore. Every stream that flowed into the lake abounded in otter, beaver, and muskrat. The waters of the lake also afforded them fish of many kinds: trout, albacore, whitefish, and sturgeon are still taken in large quantities by the Indians, the sales of which furnish them with many luxuries. The nets formerly used, which were made of animal and basswood bark, and from the sinews of animals have been replaced by the more modern contrivances for taking fish.

The ribs of the moose and buffalo made material for their kayaks; a stone tied to the end of a stick with which they broke sticks and branches, answered the purpose of a saw; the thigh bone of a moose made their awls, clay their kettles, and loaves of wood, stone headed arrows, and spear heads made of bone, many of which may be still seen in the lodge of the chiefs and old men, formerly their implements of hunting and war.

WARREN LELAND,

whom everybody knows as the successful

of America, says that while a passenger from New York on board a ship going around Cape Horn, in the early days of emigration to California, he learned that one of the officers of the vessel had cured himself, during the voyage, of an obstinate disease by the use of

Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Since then Mr. LELAND has recommended AYER'S SARSAPARILLA in many similar cases, and has never yet heard of its failure to effect a radical cure.

Some years ago one of Mr. LELAND's farm laborers bruised his leg. Owing to the bad state of his blood, an ugly scrofulous swelling or lump appeared on the injured limb. Horrible itching of the skin, with burning and darting pains through the lump, made life almost intolerable. The leg became enormously enlarged, and running ulcers formed, discharging great quantities of extremely offensive matter. No treatment was of any avail until the man, by Mr. LELAND's direction, was supplied with AYER'S SARSAPARILLA, which allayed the pain and irritation, healed the sores, removed the swelling, and completely restored him to his usual health. Mr. LELAND has personally used for Rheumatism, with entire success; and, after careful observation, declares that, in his belief, there is no medicine in the world equal to it for the cure of Liver Disorders, Gout, the effects of high living, Salt Rheum, Sores, Eruptions, and all the various forms of blood diseases.

We have Mr. LELAND's permission to invite all who may desire further evidence in regard to the extraordinary curative powers of AYER'S SARSAPARILLA to see him personally either at his summer Ocean Hotel, Long Branch, or at the popular Leland Hotel, Broadway, 27th and 28th Streets, New York. Mr. LELAND's extensive knowledge of the good done by this unequalled eradicator of blood poisons enables him to give inquirers much valuable information.

TOWN AND COUNTY.

ANOTHER veteran gone.
OLD FOLK'S CONCERT to-night.
PROMENADE CONCERT next Tuesday evening.
THE TRIBUNE until January 1st, 1885, for $1.00.

The Puritan has been laid up for the season.

GRANT numbers renewing subscriptions to Globe, Mail and other leading papers these days.

MR. JAMES R. BORTH, received a scowload of 20 thousand shrimps from Napanee on Monday.

The steamer Hero brought over 500 sheep from Picton to Kingston last Tuesday morning.

Councillors now spend the long evenings preparing their annual addresses to their constituents.

Hallowe'en was faithfully observed by the young people and the usual number of pranks performed.

A HANDSOME coal stove, suitable for house or office, is offered for sale at the office of the Bay of Quinte Railway.

The public schools were closed on Thanksgiving Day and the post-office also for the greater part of the day.

ACCIDENT.—Henry Clark, a young man working in the Lath Mill, lost one joint of a finger while engaged at work last Friday.

A cantankerous steer gave Mr. Grill's men considerable trouble the other day while they were driving it to the place of execution.

ALL parties requiring Catholic books, beads, scapulars, &c., will find it to their advantage to call on Mr. James Grant, First Street.

DR. IRISH still continues to come to Deseronto regularly, and reports a large and increasing patronage from the people of the town and vicinity.

REGISTRATION.—During the month of Oct. there have been registered with Mr. Robert N. Irvine, registrar for this district, births, 9; marriages, 1; deaths, 4.

MR. E. S. GRILLIS will soon have his new brick house completed. It is one of the most stylish residences in town and a decided ornament to the West end.

LOUR MILLS.—The Flour Mill was closed down last Tuesday for repairs. The quantity of wheat brought in by farmers is much greater and of better quality than in former years.

NOTICE.—Collector Geddis will stand the cigars for any young men who will pay their poll tax in coppers, or even in five cent pieces. Here is an opportunity which should not be lost.

TREE PLANTING.—The Rathbun Company are planting a large number of shade trees in different parts of the town. They are also setting out six hundred apple trees, placing five or six on each town's lot.

I.O.O.F.—Saturday the 15th inst. is the anniversary of Deseronto Lodge, I.O.O.F. The lodge expects a visit from their Belleville brethren next Friday evening. The society is at present in a flourishing condition.

CAPT. SKILLER reports Tuesday night as the worst he has ever experienced on the river. The galeant captain however, is perfectly at home there, even if he did happen to fetch up in Mosquito bay on that Belleville trip.

IMPROVEMENT.—The residence on St. George street, formerly occupied by W. R. Aylsworth, Esq., has been undergoing considerable improvements, several alterations being made and changes effected. Mr. E. C. French, the new owner will enter on immediate possession.

The boardwalk on St. George street near McKee's hardware store was stained with gore the other morning, and for some time there was a suspicion that a dire tragedy had befallen during the previous night, but on investigation it was found out that only a dog had been bleeding freely.

DROWNING.—As a result of the drowing operations Mr. Munson informs us that vessels drawing 9 ft. of water can go up the creek as far as Napanee, and on the spring vessels of 10 or 11 feet can go up. The drowing has departed for Trenton to do some work for Gilmour Bros. The tug Munson was launched yesterday.

OVERBOARD.—Mr. S. Badgely backed his horse and wagon over the chemical works dock the other day while unloading brick from a scow. He happened to be on the wagon at the time and was fast disappearing under the cold waters of the bay, when the commander of the scow grabbed him and pulled him out none the worse of his bath. Everything was subsequently recovered except a couple of wagon bolts.

OLD FOLK'S CONCERT.—The Old Folks Concert to be held this evening in the Presbyterian S. S. Room (White Church) promises to be the event of the season, a large sale of tickets having been effected. The effort of the Company in Kingston was pronounced the best of the kind ever given in "that city". The quaint costumes, old fashioned songs, and excellent singing all alike delighted the audience and will no doubt be appreciated by those who will be present this evening. The best musical talent of Kingston will take part in the concert.

Mr. W. H. ENGLISH has opened out a 7 cent store in Smith's brick block, in the shop adjoining Coleman's photographic gallery.

A block thrown from a saw in the cedar mill struck Mr. Chas. Clement a severe blow on the hip while he was engaged at work last Saturday.

The sch. D. Freeman, Capt. Allen, yesterday made the fastest trip on record between Oswego and Belleville, making the distance in 107 minutes.

MR. BOUTIERE of Picton, was in town on Wednesday and reports business very brisk the coming factory. They have shipped recently 80,000 cut logs of canned goods.

MESSES HATCH AND HEALY take possession of the Deseronto House on Monday. Mr. Geo. Stewart, the former proprietor, will in a short time enter on another line of business.

Owing to the increase of business at The Big Store it has been necessary to increase the staff of salesmen. Mr. A. Beazart has accepted a position in the Grocery Department.

MR. GEORGE STEWART has his new store well advanced, the mason work being finished and the building closed in. It is without doubt the most substantial store yet erected in Deseronto.

A. F. WOOD ESQ. M. P. P. President of the County Scott Act Association, calls a meeting of the Executive and Finance Committees to be held at Stirling on Thursday, 27th of November.

The medical members of the Board of Health are now reaping golden rewards for the mastery inactivity of that organization during the summer. Egar smiles as he displays his quinine pellets to an outraged public.

So Hallowe'en the boys in the exuberance of their joy cut down the swing at the schoolhouse and we are sorry to say plastered the sides and windows with mortar for all of which they are to be called to strict account.

The steamer Puritan being now laid up for the season, Capt. Jos. Belcourt may now be seen pacing the deck of the S.S. Pilgrim. No more popular officer on the bay than this hardy mariner who hails from the birth place of Jacques Cartier.

PORT OF DESERONTO.—The exports from the Port of Deseronto for the month of Oct. were of the value of $57,174 as compared with $55,467 for the same month last year. The imports were $2,435 and duties $425.75 against $6,702 and $1,329.16 last year.

MACHINE SHOPS.—Mr. James Whitton, of the Deseronto Machine Shop, has received an order for two large shingle machines for one of the mills owned by Messrs. Hall & Co., of Quebec. They will be of the same description as those used here.

BAY VIEW.—Mr. Howatt, of Bay View farm, sent four Jerseys to Halifax on Monday. He is making large shipments of his choice potatoes to Ottawa, Toronto, Belleville and Kingston. He also finds a steady demand for his winter cabbage, and expects to soon clear his 20,000 heads now on hand.

The congregations of the Methodist and Presbyterian churches assembled in the Church of the Redeemer on Thursday evening for Thanksgiving services. There was a good attendance, but in the painful absence of an organist, choir, singers, collection plates, &c., the services lagged and lacked heartiness.

The population of Deseronto is now estimated at 2,400. A large number of houses are immediately required to meet the wants of its increasing population. Houses are overcrowded and rents exorbitant, a state of affairs which could be remedied by the erection of a number of cottages. Local capitalists would find their money profitably invested in this direction.

MR. J. G. ROSS left on Thursday to take charge of the branch establishment of Messrs. Hinch, Perry & Co. at Yarker. The residents of Deseronto will greatly miss the presence of our genial friend who while manager of McAllister's branch made himself so universally popular. All will unite in wishing him success in the prettiest village on the Napanee Valley line.

SUCCESSFUL SEASON.—Mr. F. W. Powell's operations on the Ottawa are drawing to a close for the season. The two mills which he has been managing for the Rathbun Company will stop sawing in a few days. He has just completed delivery of a large number of ties to the Grand Trunk at Montreal. Mr. Powell has had a busy and we hope a profitable season.

THE SCHOOL HOUSE.—Mr. Oliver, the contractor, reports that good progress has been made on the extension of the school-house. The first coat of plaster has been put on and everything will soon be ready for the two new teachers for whom the Board are negotiating. With plenty of school room there is no excuse for Deseronto being any longer behind other towns in an educational point of view.

DRESS CONCERT.—On the evening of Tuesday, the 25th inst., a Children's Fancy Dress Concert will be held in the Presbyterian S. S. Room. Mrs. M. Campbell is successfully training forty children for the occasion, and we learn also that Mrs. Dr. Hester, well known also singer, of Ogdensburg, will take a part on the occasion. The young people are determined to make the affair a great success. Don't forget the date.

BE CAREFUL.—The late fire in the Central Office above the necessity of exercising every precaution against the devouring element. Gas jets, lamps, stovepipes should all be kept at a good distance from wood-work, and tin should be placed under ashes are deposited. Rates of fire insurance are being raised, and all communities have it in their power to secure a reduction if the ordinary rules of safety are complied with.

In the absence of the pastor, the pulpit of the Church of the Redeemer was filled last Sunday by Rev. V. O. Mallory, who preached able and eloquent sermons to large and interested congregations. The services were impressive, the singing by the choir being very good. Mrs. Herbert Rathbun presided at the organ with much acceptance. At the close of the evening service, Mr. Mallory expressed the pleasure he felt at meeting the congregation once more and gave some interesting facts concerning his work among the aborigines of Michigan.

THE sch. Agnes Hope with lumber from Eagle Mill to Oswego is reported abandoned and deck load lost. A tug has gone out to search for loads and crew.

MR. THOMAS BROWN left on Thursday for Manitow, Manitow, where he enters on the position of clerk in a large grocery establishment. We wish him all success in his new home.

SERVICES were held in St. Mark's Church on the evening of Thanksgiving Day. The Rector preached an excellent sermon based on the 16th Psalm. The singing was excellent and a good contribution was given to the fund of the missionary diocese of Algoma.

MUCH interest was manifested here in the Presidential election, and there was much rejoicing when it was supposed that Cleveland was elected. The returns are still incomplete, but late reports would seem to indicate that Blaine will be the successful candidate.

MR. HERBERT C. FOSTER, who has so satisfactorily performed the duties of foreman in this office has we regret to state been compelled by ill health to leave Deseronto to proceed to California where he will make his home in future. We trust that the change may in every respect prove beneficial.

PARSONAGE OPENING.—The Ladies Aid Society of the Methodist Church have selected Tuesday, the 18th inst. as the date of the parsonage opening, for which they have been making busy preparations for some time. A bazaar at which a number of useful and fancy articles will be on sale will commence in the parsonage at 10 o'clock. The grand tea will also be served in the same place at any hour of the afternoon or evening. A meeting will be held in the evening in the Church where addresses will be delivered by the President of the Conference, Rev. Messrs. Pearson and Wilson and other gentlemen. There will also be music both vocal and instrumental. Tickets for tea 25 cts. and those will be good to admit bearer to the Church. It will be seen that there is everything to insure a grand success for the occasion. The proceeds will be devoted to the extinguishing of the Manse debt.

COR HILL.—Mr. Burgess and his men are getting along very well with the building at the Hill and have now themselves favorites with the people of that locality. That respectable workman, Mr. Thos. Callaghan, informs them that he had a shanty there eighteen years ago and that he could have got all the land he wanted at one dollar per acre. Mr. Ritchie has paid $100.00 for the land he holds in that vicinity and different parties have made large sums by selling mining claims and retaining royalties. Our old friend, Mr. John Reid, who is one of the party, lost himself while out shooting one wet day and was preparing a soft spot under a tree on which to pass the night when the noise of a passing train gave him the direction of his track, which almost some of the reached just in time to meet his anxious friends, who with dogs, lanterns, guns &c., were searching for him.

FAREWELL SUPPER.—The supper on the steamer Hero last Friday evening passed off in a very pleasant manner. As this is the popular Captain's last season on the bay, he took this method of showing his good feeling towards both crew and friends. Shortly before ten o'clock the guests were invited into the saloon of the steamer where a table spread with all the delicacies of the season, and arranged in a manner calculated to tempt the appetite of even a dyspeptic. After ample justice had been done thereto, the company was called to order by the Captain, and the remainder of the evening given up to toasts, speeches, &c. Songs were rendered by Mr. Harry Burgess and Mr. Nicholson, purser of the steamer, and several members of the crew. "Charlie" with his comical remarks caused considerable merriment. After singing "God Save the Queen," the company broke up about twelve o'clock all having spent a most enjoyable time. All regret Capt. Craig's decision to leave the Hero, but trust that he may have all success in the future.

WEDDING BELLS.—The residence of Mrs. Gault, on Dundas street, was the scene of a very pleasant social event last Wednesday evening, the occasion being the marriage of Miss Ellen Gault to Mr. E. Arthur Rixon, accountant in the general office of the Rathbun Company. Relatives and invited guests to the number of forty were present to witness the ceremony, which was performed by Rev. T. Stanton, Rector of St. Mark's. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Annie Gault, while Mr. Murrie W. Britton supported the groom. The bride and bridesmaid, who looked exceedingly pretty, were alike dressed in white satin. After the ceremony the large company sat down to a sumptuous repast, at the close of which there followed the usual toasts, Mr. Britton proposing the bride's health, and Mr. Rixon responding in a neat speech; Mr. Stanton proposed the bridesmaid, to which Mr. Britton replied in eloquent terms. A large number of rich and handsome presents testified to the esteem in which the bride was held by a large circle of friends. With a host of friends in Deseronto and elsewhere, we unite in tendering our heartiest congratulations to the happy couple.

DROWNED LANDS.—All our readers have heard a great deal about the drowned lands of the line of the Napanee and Tanworth railway. An obliging correspondent furnishes us with some useful information concerning them which will be found interesting. The drowned lands comprise an area of 70,000 acres in the township of Camden and about 40,000 acres in the township of Bedford making a total of 110,000 acres. The railway runs through them for a distance of two and a quarter miles, about one mile of this being on a marl subformation. The marl is composed of a soft vegetable matter heavily timbered with black ash, elm, soft maple, tamarac, spruce, alder &c. &c. In the district adjacent to the railway line the trees average from eight to ten inches in diameter, but as you go outward they increase in size, some measuring fully four inches. Mud Lake forms the head of the swamp in Camden on the west. Napanee Lake, Pond Lily Lake &c. form open spots through the swamp, all the rest being timbered. No doubt in the past it has all been one large lake, and in the course of a century or so Mud Lake will be just as much terra firma as the present swamp.

I have a leisure hour to spend now and then, and I spend it in rambling round the city where I dwell. Perhaps some of you may think this is poor enjoyment, but it does not seem so to me. True, were I young and rich, I might seek my pleasures farther afield—on the sunny shores of the Mediterranean, or in the gay gardens of France. I might look more in the smile of gentle dames, forgetting my loneliness, as one forgets in the sunshine that only a moment before the sky hung black with clouds. But I am neither young nor rich; and even if I were, it seems to me that no place in the world could ever be so dear as those lanes and meadows I love so well.

and pray as the sky. And if the curious one had turned his eyes on the horse he would have seen, at an upper window, a woman's figure, clad in mourning, with head bent, intently watching the pall bearers as they wound along the muddy road. Had the curious one cared to look closer, he might have seen the gleam of triumph in her eyes—dark, flashing, coal-black eyes—as she watched the tall bent figure walk behind with such a weary, listless step. But soon a turn in the road hid the company from view, and the window was empty again.

up the snows spread slowly over the house, the staircase, into the nooks and corners of the rooms, and over the garden, and down on that, but nowhere so strongly as on the heart of the young mistress. Her rippling laughter changed to sighs, her eyes grew dim, and her cheeks grew pale. The nocks; she passed from summer to winter with no melting autumn days to make the change less sad. It was not that the snows were so white, or that they brought the life of her husband, or in any other way attempted to dispel the sunshine of her life; it was simply a dull withering of the heart. The snows were white, but the dark areas which she wore, and the masses of dark hair which at times she would let fall about her shoulders, seemed like black clouds gathering over her life. The lily dropped day by day over her life of sunlight. She became morbid, nervous, full of strange fears, and her husband was not able to comfort her. At last she took to dressing herself in her wedding garb, to try to fly by that strange way from the world of sorrow. She was dressed in that garb, sat in a chair in which she was happy, as she had been, and she had fastened and sealed in the English church but a few months before. She stood, too, longly before the glass, gazing wistfully to see if aught of her, or her husband, were gone. In this garb, too, she was seen by the young man, who, as he came to her bosom with the snowdrops of spring, at that time, they seemed to wither away at her touch and had, listless and dead. There it was, the young man's heart, as he saw her in the snows on the fresh spring grass, some faded snowdrops in her lifeless hand, her golden curls surmounting a face darkened with sorrow, and her eyes, as he looked at her, bright but crept down, and settled on the floor; but it was out of place, and timid as the snowdrops which she had seen playing on the grass.

Thus quietly as the gliding of a river did her spirit depart, or rather was effaced, as if she could hide the silver moon from us for a moment. And so, they tell me, she can be seen at times in the old garden, just as, when the clouds grow faint, the welcome shafts of light come down to assure us that their mo-

A Distracted Wife's Last Message to the Man who Had Described Her.

In a humble room upon the second floor of a Calow street, Philadelphia, bearing the name of a miller and child lay down recently died in each other's arms. Upon the head of Jesse Logan, the recent husband and father rests the moral responsibility for the double tragedy. When Mrs. Theodore Seifer, the mistress of the bawdine house, arose in the morning and went about her duties, she wondered why her lodger in the back room slept so late. She did not go to their room until nearly noon. She knocked violently and called, but the room was quiet. She pushed her tongue to the door. It was stopped with a wall paper, but she detected the odor of escaping gas.

The door was forced open. The body of Annie Lavan was in the bed. She had undressed for the night. Her careworn face was almost as peaceful as though she slept. One arm was outstretched upon the pillow and the other clasped in a tight embrace the body of her baby boy, Howard. The bedroom was scrupulously neat. The clothing of mother and child had been carefully packed away in a trunk, together with some little trinkets. Only a few articles of the child's clothing were in sight. These had been carefully used to seal cracks about the door and window frames. Under the door was tightly wedged a piece of carpet. The gas jet was turned off.

A cup of the washstand was partly filled with laudanum, and a teaspoon reloaded with tincture of opium lay upon the floor where Annie Looman had thrown it after giving her child a fatal dose and draining the drug herself. The forsaken wife had also twisted and knotted a towel about her head to fasten the work of self-destruction. On the bureau were a few crumpled and stained letters, a tattered torn from a memorandum book. They contained the story of the woman's shattered life, or as much of the story as the heart-broken wife chose to make public on the night of her death. The first note, hastily written with a pen found beside it, was addressed to her husband. It read:

MRS. SEIFERT: You will let my brother know it as soon as possible. The elder Jo. one Fogley, lives at 2 418 Race street between Fifth and Sixth streets. Thomas Fogley, 2 816 Poplar street, is fireman Twenty-third and Race streets, with North and Beulah.

In the other message, written closely upon five pages, the trembling hand had confessed the motives that had prompted to murder and suicide. The letter was addressed to his family. It read:

DEAR BROTHERS AND SISTERS: My dear husband has forsaken me and his dear little boy, though he was no like his papa, and was looking for him every day. I hope he will often think of the best friend he has had for the last six years. I gave up all for him, and I will die for him. I hope he will forgive me for what I have done, and I hope we will soon meet each other in the other world, for I forgive him and still love him, and hope our life to be joy. Howard March, Please bury him in my arms. Dear brothers, forgive me. Take care of my trunk and bury my wherever you wish to. Good-bye to all and every one and to the dear papa. To him Howard said the la

Here the writing wavered and stopped in the middle of a sheet.

Six years ago Annie Fegley lived with her parents in Pottsville. Here she first met Charles Logan, a man considerably her senior. They were married. She was then 24 years old. They came to Philadelphia, where Mrs. Logan's little fortune was soon spent. Then the husband began to neglect her, and finally he left them apparently forever. On the following day Mrs. Logan received a postal card. The husband's brief message was this:

A party of hunters returning from a trap on the plains captured a clever mule deer.

the plant captured. A dozen miles from the coast, a small boat was seen, and the "wagie," in its half-famished condition about 300 pounds. For days he could neither eat nor sleep, and kept the canoe in the water, drifting along. He was able to land for the length of his chain, rolling his blood-stained eyes and giving vent to rage and fear in ear-splitting growls. One Monday morning, the church was called to prayer, from the direction of the Sabiath School, bruia waxed desperate and, with a powerful tug, snapped the chain that held him, and was off on a clamorous flight. He was followed by a party of twelve, armed and pursued male. Bruin, the hard-bast, and having long fasted, made a break for a large paneled window in the wall of the school, and, with a crash, hurling with a crash in the midst of the astonished guests, who "stood not upon the order of their going, but went at once," Abruin lay in a corn, r, constantly, but undisturbed.

ably, "monarch of all he surveyed." In brief, however, was his reign. Soon a cowboy entering the long hall, threw a lasso over his shoulders; a second and third followed, and the three men were dragged into the street. Then a lively skirmish followed, causing a general stampede of the crowd, the three cowboys endeavoring to mount their plunging, bucking, frightened ponies, who evidently did not like his bearing. The feat was accomplished, and then the "tag of war" began. The harassed brute, fairly at bay, lunged to the right and left, while the ponies, with feet spread, braced sturdily against the tremendous strains of the lariats wound about their necks. Then, with a sudden dash, he leaped either and over the hard, sun-baked ground. A girth snapped, and a saddle went spinning over the horse's head, leaving the nimble rider astride the neck of a

Stephen angrily gives his readers the advice to fall over a precipice or to get killed drunk before doing so. I was not hurt, but I should probably have been instantly killed by this individual though he had both of his thigh bones, quickly re-laid. But this universal unprogressiveness is merely the natural and inevitable result of the peculiar temperament which characterizes the Russian people. In the Russian's assertion may appear, there is not good enough in Russia. There is, indeed, misery enough and far too much pain, but the Russian is not a man of suffering. In the sole idea of the suffering man's duty to endure doggedly until the evil day is passed, and then to go on in the old way, lies the strength of his character. It is the same logic that wears the same sort of twisted bark, feeds upon the same sort of bread and fish mixed with sawdust, and grows the same sort of man in the East and the Great Russian peasant, in an age of railways and telegraphs, is still the same careless, hospitable, thief-taker, drunkard, and miser. It is the same logic that, a few years ago, the Tartars of the Crimea, brought like rabbits amid the ruins of Chernomorsk or in the caverns of the Krimskaya Vysokaya, were still the same. It is the same logic that, on October 1854, that they are content to live there happily under the crabs for their generation. It is not from such material that the skin of a philosopher of the steppes, a conservative by nature as fatalist by creed, accepts without a murmur the Russian's view of the world. He served his ancestors in the middle of the century to remain as his father was to him, and as his son will be after him. He is a man of the same sort as the man in the Prostokvashino and the Prostokvashino Poetry to an oyster.

It was an unsurpassable relief to find myself once more, after so many days at the unintelligible dialects of Hungary, Transylvania and Roumania, in a place where one can understand very well what the Rumanians say. It was about a few days ago at the frontier station of Umghent, it was like the first glimpse of the minarets of Bagdad! To a traveller from the plains of Mesopotamia, bent to another day's journey towards the East, the Slavonic tongue must have a somewhat startling sound. The Rumanian words "Thank you," I pronounced exactly "Blackguard are you," while the phrase "Pas me la main!" sounded like "Pass me the salt." It will seem who pronounces quickly, suggestive of a very unorthodox remark indeed. The formidable length of some of the words, too, reminds one of the king of Kamboja's speech which required

The Big Store, after distributing samples of this tea have sold large quantities through the country and have received many orders by mail for chest lots to go by Boat and Rail.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 14, 1894.

The stmr. Resolute on her last trip brought over the anchor, rigging &c. of the str. Agnes Hope.

The steam barge Saxon was hauled up on the marine railway last Saturday to receive some repairs to her wheel.

A YOUNG LADY, ten years of age, on Monday last joined eighteen thousand shingles, a good day's work for any man.

The shipyard has received an order for five carloads of oakwood to be used on the Grand Trunk for shimming purposes.

A handsome jewel has been found in the Church of the Redeemer. The owner can recover it by calling on Mr. J. Carwell.

The steamer "Empress of India" left Picton on Monday morning for South Bay, where she takes in a cargo of apples for Montreal.

LARGE quantities of whitefish have been caught this past week, and the market has, in consequence, been well supplied with this excellent fish.

MR. T. GALLOWAY, of Uxbridge, delivered an excellent address on "The Work of God" in the Church of the Redeemer last Sunday evening.

NO PERMITS will be granted for shooting in Hay Bay after the expiration of this week. There has been unusually good shooting this year.

The str. Gazelle, Capt. John Cornelius, has been on the way to be caulked and repaired. The Tig. Munson has returned from Belleville for pilot house, &c.

THAT ardent sportsman, Mr. Samuel Croft, spent a couple of days last week duck shooting at East Lake. In four hours he succeeded in bagging seven ducks and a loon.

THE CANADIAN MISSIONARY for November, published in Kingston under Anglican auspices, has been issued. The December number will be an illustrated and interesting one.

MR. T. BUTLER reports business very brisk in the lumber woods and operations on an extensive scale this winter. He has already five shanties up and 240 men employed.

MR. STODDART, of the "Big Store" tailoring department, has received the contract of furnishing the uniforms for the Deseronto Cornet Band. They are to be of a rich and handsome pattern.

THOMAS CARROLL, of the Cedar Mill, had a narrow escape on Wednesday from a serious injury. A block thrown from his saw struck him a severe blow in the stomach; he is doing well.

The str. Philo Bennett, well known in this port, was driven ashore lately near Concession. She was built at Port Huron in 1868. She is owned by D. Eccles, of Port Huron, and is valued at $1,800.

MR. JAS. BURGESS reports a severe storm at Coshill on Wednesday last week, eight inches of snow having fallen. When he left that place on Friday there was still six inches of snow on the ground and good sleighing.

MRS. CAMPBELL is making great progress with the training of the young people who take part in the concert to be held on the 23rd inst. All enter with great zest into the various exercises and a great success is expected.

REV. I. O'MALLORY continues in town on Sabbath, and on that day will preach in the Methodist Church in the forenoon, and in the Church of the Redeemer in the evening. He has greatly enjoyed his visit to old friends in Deseronto.

THE Minister of Education has arranged the following dates upon which the annual meetings of the Teachers' Institutes will be held: Hastings, May 7th and 8th; Lennox and Addington, May 14th and 15th; Prince Edward, May 18th and 19th.

THE state of the sky is variable in the eastern heavens from 3 o'clock a.m. until daylight. It can readily be distinguished by its brilliant beauty. It will disappear shortly, and astronomers assert that it will not be visible again for 400 years.

MR. CHARLES DAVENPORT and men returned from Oswego on the Resolute last Sunday morning. Mr. Davenport passed through the excitement of the presidential campaign, and thinks that the Democrats will not stand any attempt to count out Cleveland.

IRONWORKING.—The Chemical Works have received an order from the Ontario Iron and Steel Company for a quantity of charcoal, to be used as a desolator in their steels. It has been successfully used in the extensive steels of the Rathbun Company during the past year.

NOTICE.—The various literary societies are now beginning to organize for the winter. A meeting of St. Mark's Literary Society will be held on Thursday evening, 20th inst., at the residence of Mr. John Hoppes, President of the society. A full attendance is requested.

CHEAP and popular story books at THE TRIBUNE OFFICE.

MRS. DALTON has the cheapest and best dress goods in the town. Call and see her.

The public schools of Belleville are over-crowded something after the same manner as those of Deseronto last winter. The best system!

NOTICE.—There will be sacramental services in the Methodist Church next Sabbath morning the Love Feast will commence at 10 o'clock.

The trial of the election petition against the return of Mr. D. W. Allison, M. P. for Lennox, began on Tuesday at Napanee. The case has been adjourned.

MR. J. H. SCOTT intends in a week or so to open out a hair-dressing parlor in the building immediately east of the Deseronto House.

FOUR steamers and six trains have been the average arrivals at the steamboat dock and railway station each day during the past season.

MRS. HEALY & HATCH have determined to give up the Deseronto House, and Mr. George Stewart will continue to manage the favorite hostelry as heretofore.

We regret to state that there has been an outbreak of drunkenness lately and that many men are to be seen on the streets every evening in a state of intoxication.

MR. ANDREW KNAPP has erected a new fence in front of his residence on Second street. That street is lined with neat cottages and presents a very lively appearance.

CLARA HARRIS reports a flock of three or four hundred ducks just beyond the "big bend" of the Napanee River. No sportsman has yet ventured to disturb them in their haunts.

REMEMBER.—A concert and entertainment under the auspices of the congregation of St. Mark's Church will be given on Dec. 16th. Remember the date and await further announcements.

I.O.P.—Notice is hereby given, that a full attendance of members of Deseronto Court of Officers, is requested on Wednesday evening, Nov. 14th inst., for the purpose of nominating officers for next term and transacting other business of importance.

BEAST.—The chemical works present a busy appearance at present, a large force of men being employed in putting up the various annexes, digging drains and making other improvements. The sawmill compressor has been running this week.

THIS section men have been busy this week improving the curves, and widening the cuts on the Bay of Quinte railway, and to the completion of winter traffic. If found necessary snow fences will also be put up this winter, to guard against obstruction by snow drifts.

NOTICE.—By a majority of eight to one the project of confederation with Canada was rejected, for the time being, by the Legislative Council of Jamaica. If that illustrious body in any way resembles our upper house, this will be taken as a powerful argument that the measure is desirable.

A KIND ACT.—Mr. Thos. Roach, Supt. of the Cedar Mill, and a few kind-hearted assistants assembled last evening and neatly banked up the house of Mrs. Sydney Stafford, residing at Belleville, with good lumber, and performing other kind offices. This is only in keeping with that kindness of heart for which the employees of the Rathbun Company are so deservedly secured a reputation.

MIST CHARGE.—On account of the peculiar pronunciation of brakemen, there is a great similarity between the names of Toronto and Deseronto, and many passengers daily step off at Deseronto Junction, thinking they have reached Toronto. There is no remedy for this except the return by Toronto to itself and yet appropriate name of "Muddy York."

MR. WILLIAM JAMIESON, of the Empress Hotel, has returned home from his hunting expedition in North Hastings, having had a most pleasant time and good success. He brought back, among other spoils, the carcasses of three fine deer, which he has been right royally sharing among many of his Deseronto friends.

R. or Q. RY.—There has been a very marked increase in passenger traffic on the Bay of Quinte Railway during the past week. This gratifying state of affairs is largely due to the good facilities extended to the people of Picton and Prince Edward, by which they have been enabled to make close connections with the Grand Trunk trains. These will be continued during the winter.

WHY NOT.—Mr. M. Campbell, of the Deseronto House, finds his newly invented catch can a success that he is having it patented in the United States and Canada. Already a large milling firm in Toronto have made advances to secure the right of handling it. Why cannot Mr. Campbell manufacture it in Deseronto? There is no more central or suitable place in the Dominion.

A LARGER number than usual of country folk took the advantage of the fine weather to come into town during the past week. They find Deseronto by far the best market for all kinds of country produce, and bargain offered by business men more favorable than they can secure in neighboring towns. Many regret, however, the apathy of the people of this town in reference to the establishment of a free market.

STAY AT HOME.—Mr. Dingman together with Mr. M. Hill has had a busy time attending to the re-laying of the Reserve during the past two weeks. Both those officers are painstaking in the performance of their duties, and animated with an ardent desire to promote the welfare of the Indians. They have been made advances to secure the applications. Thus far the following persons have obtained leases:—Michael Campbell, Timothy Dunning, Samuel Davenport, William Clark, Joseph Farrell, Mrs. Alice and Patrick Flood, Samuel Gledits, James Harvey, Thomas Harrison, Hugh Hinchey, James Little, Wm. Little, John Little, Alex. Meagher, Wm. Marcumb, Wm. Martin, Jacob Borden, Jas. McFarlane, Henry McLean, John McFarlane, Geo. Munro, Mr. McCallum, Wm. McCullough, Daniel McVicar, John McBride, Michael Nolan, Robert Orr, Peter Pearson, Daniel Scrimshaw, Robert Smith, Jas. Sweeney, Basil Smith, John R. Smith, Rob. Thompson, John Toppins, Thomas Toppins, Richard White.

DESERONTO Oddfellows entertain their Belleville brethren this evening: a most enjoyable time is expected.

THE str. Agnes Hope was waterlogged about fifteen miles out from Oswego with her foremast set. The Captain with six men and two passengers took to the long boat, and after a severe struggle arrived at Oswego. The vessel was beached, stern on, five miles north of Oswego, and half of her deck laid on the beach. The vessel was a leaky towed from the heavy sea. About 100,000 feet of lumber was saved out of the wreck and was not much insurance on the vessel.

SURGICAL.—A day or two ago Wesley Dine, of the Tyndall's Reserve, while engaged in his winter work, had the misfortune to scratch the forefinger of his left hand with a rusty nail. Not regarding the wound of much consequence he neglected it and got it cold in it, and as a result gangrene set in and extended up the hand and arm, the arm being greatly swollen. His finger has been amputated, and, in all probability, the hand must also be removed in order to save his arm. The operation was performed by Dr. McLaughlin, of St. Catharines, and is progressing as favorably as could be expected under the circumstances.

IMPORTANT EVENT.—Everything is in readiness for the Passover opening, which is to be held under the auspices of the Ladies Aid Society of the Methodist Church, on Wednesday next, the 15th inst. There has already been a large sale of tickets, every one being disposed to invest 25 cts in the new building by purchasing a ticket. At three o'clock the ladies will convene and the ladies of Deseronto especially, will find this a good opportunity of purchasing a ticket of useful articles of every description. The Grand Tea will be served at one hour during the afternoon or evening. The tickets for tea will admit to the concert and entertainment, everything in fine points to make it an enjoyable time. There will be a large attendance.

UNFORTUNATE ACCIDENT.—A daughter of Mr. John Bann, of Belleville, who was staying with her uncle, Mr. A. Culbertson, of the Indian Reserve, while out driving with her cousin on Sunday night met with a severe accident. After driving for some time on their arrival at home, they found a horse hitched to the gate. John Culbertson jumped down to remove it, leaving the young lady in the buggy. The horse, frightened, jumped out of the buggy and fell to the ground, breaking both the bones of her leg, the bones penetrating through the skin. The horse was killed. Mr. Culbertson was at once summoned, and successfully performed the operation of setting the limb. Miss Bann, we are glad to hear, is progressing favorably.

CEDAR MILL.—The output at the Cedar Mill during the month of October exceeded that of any previous month in its history. When we consider the fact that the mill is a mountain of machinery in operation. The following is the list of different kinds of lumber manufactured during the month, and amounts to the same: Railroad ties, 3,360 pieces, 8' x 10' post, 11,194; Shingles, 2,231,200; Heading, 60,000; Cedar 16', 16,200; joisting and dimension timber, 549,700 feet to M. P.; 2,180 pieces; floats, 438; square timber, 329; paving blocks, 67 car loads; 18' wood, 807 car loads; 4' wood, 491 cords. Shipments of this lumber have been made all winter season, particularly by rail during the construction of the N. T. & Q. Ry. A great number of car loads of ties, posts, telegraph poles, culverts and bridge timber, material for station, section and coal houses, were shipped from the mill, and this, with numerous orders from the Grand Trunk and other lines, make the past season more lively than ever heretofore. The convenience afforded by the Bay of Quinte railway is greatly in favor of the mill, and it continues to a greater measure of promptitude in delivering of material and billing orders. The shipments by water have also been on a very extensive scale, and will continue so to the close of navigation, when the mill will shut down for a short time to make slight repairs, previous to entering on winter operations. Upwards of one hundred men and boys are employed about the mill and yard, and all have worked together with the greatest harmony during the winter season. The superintendent, Mr. Thomas Roach Jr., and his assistants, Mr. John Hoppes and E. H. Cook, are justly proud of the success of their establishment, and of the excellent character of workmen, whose operations they have the honor and pleasure to direct.

YE OLDE FOLK'S CONCERT.—The King of Queen Street Methodist Church, Kingston, arrived in town last Friday evening and gave their "Old Folk's Concert," in the Presbyterian School room, which was well filled by a respectable and enthusiastic audience, who heartily enjoyed the rich musical treat with which they were favored by the visitors. The platform had been arranged so as to represent a New England home of the olden time. Old fashioned pictures, dishes, clock, spinning wheel, together with strings of dried apples, corn, &c., gave everything an ancient appearance. Much amusement was created as the Higgs family in quaint costumes marched up the aisle to the front. The procession was headed by Elder Snighs (A. Hoppes), who looked indeed under a lofty and venerable hat; after him followed the members of the family, and the inimitable Uncle Josiah, whose appearance was greeted with great laughter, and the other members of the family. "The Higgs Home" and "Jerusalem put the Kettle on" were then sung with great effect, and shortly after the city cousins from Boston put in an appearance. It was very carefully maintained that "Annie Laurie" (M. Sherlock) rendered "Annie Laurie" most excellently, eliciting a very enthusiastic encore to which the "Folks" responded by Roxana Applebe (Miss Allen) and others, was well received, as was the solo by Miss Sophia (Mrs. Chapman), "The Higgs Home" and "What can the Master be," by the company, were given with great energy and caused much merriment. The scene, which the actors Staudish (Miss Macdonald) was well given, until interrupted by a most violent fit of sneezing by Miss Esther Zebadiah (Mr. Masie). This piece was received with great applause and received an encore. "Abigail Goodenough's" (Mrs. Tandy) "Homeside

Song," and "Ye Shepherds Tell Me," by Mrs. Chapman and Messrs. Crawford and Bassan, were rendered in good style, and Dr. & Mrs. Masie's duet was well appreciated. Capt. Crawford's "For he is an Englishman," was sung with great spirit, and with the quartette by Messrs. Greenwood, Clark, Sherlock and Crawford, was vigorously applauded and encored. Dr. Masie gave "When George the III was King." This good effect, and Aunt Polly's (Mrs. Sherlock) "I cannot Sing the Old Songs," was particularly good and considered the best effort of the evening. Several instrumental selections were given during the evening, including a piano solo by Mrs. Taylor, and duet by Mrs. Crawford and Miss Lavell, Messrs. Atermity and Hopkins, gave also a selection on cornet and euphonium, which was much enjoyed. At the close all united in singing "Auld Lang Syne" and "God Save the Queen." The concert was greatly enjoyed, and the choir may rest assured that their efforts were much appreciated by the people of Deseronto, who will be ever ready to give them a hearty welcome should they again favor us with their presence. During their stay in Deseronto, the choir were hospitably entertained by Mr. & Mrs. E. J. Rathbun. The party left by the midnight train for Kingston.

MEAGHER & CO.

THE STORY OF MY LOVE.

Lady Jemond went at it once to the head of the table, taking her place there as though it had been her own; familiarly at me as she took her seat, but made no remark. She talked gaily and brilliantly, not conscious of being in a strange position; nor did she appear to realise that her coming could not be caused, no any way, by me. I was almost constrained. She evidently had nothing to conceal. She looked round the luxurious appointments of the dinner-table with a complacent air. "This is a strange turn of fate that has brought me here," she said, "and made me mistress of all this wealth. I can call it 'pro fitis' and 'loss' as I please."

"I am sure," said Mr. Benson, "your son is a long way from his twenty-first birthday. How old is he now?"

"He will be two years old in September," she replied; "so that I shall be queen regent for almost a quarter of a century. I shall heartily enjoy my kingdom in this delightful spot."

I looked at Mr. Benson, and he at me. The words struck me as exceedingly strange for it is not often that a young lady comes to her majority in the space of a few years she must pass without the society of her husband as an enjoyable one."

"I have a cousin Paul talk much about 'Jammond Dine'?" I asked her.

"Not very much," she replied.

"Did she come angry with Sir William?" asked Mr. Benson.

"No, not at any; that is not the sort," she answered quietly.

"She is a very good girl," I remarked.

"It is strange that Captain Jemond made no allusion to his marriage," remarked Mr. Benson.

"He must have laughed, giving her head a dainty little toss at the same time," she said.

"I do not think so," I replied.

"I have seen Sir William's letters to his son on the subject of matrimony began and ended with the one piece of advice—'do not marry more one with money.' I am sure it is a pleasant surprise," said Mr. Benson.

"You could not expect to monopolise all the good gifts of this world," said the lawyer, politely.

"I have said, and truly her laugh was like a silver chime."

"Paul said he should never write to Sir William about his marriage, but, when he could get leave of absence, he should bring me home. He had an idea that I was quite irresistible, and that Sir William had only looked into the lawyer's face with an expression which fairly bewildered me."

"What a charming girl," said Mr. Benson.

"Will Sir William have liked me?" she asked inquiringly.

"I am afraid he liked nothing but gold," the lawyer said.

"She laughed merrily, disclosing as she did so her even pearly white teeth.

"I had no idea," she remarked presently.

"She was not at all expansive, or that; Sir William was so rich. Paul talked of him as a wealthy man; but I did not think he had such unbounded wealth."

"It is a pleasant surprise," said Mr. Benson.

"Very pleasant," replied Lady Jemond with a bright little sigh.

"When one has such a life as I have for want of money, such a surprise as I can assure you, fully appreciated."

"I have heard of her after these outcrop expressions. She was evidently not in the least ashamed of having been poor."

"More than half the world live in misery from want of money. I have known it. My parents were comparatively poor, and I had to leave home when I was quite a girl to earn my own living."

"I have thought to suggest that early contact with the world helped to form and brace the character."

"I am sure I have had a long experience. No, certainly she had no false pride. I have known her boast more openly, and I liked her for it."

"When dinner was over, we left Mr. Benson to take a bottle of favorite claret, and returned to the drawing-room. Lady Jemond appeared absorbed in deep thought, and it was only when I was about to leave the room that Aunt Annetta took the opportunity to say:

"Stay with me, will you, Miss Gordon?" she said. "I feel lonely and strange to-night."

"Ah, then," I thought to myself, "she is not devoid of feeling; but her strong will keeps the emotional side of her nature under the control of the world."

"I will stay with pleasure," if you desire it," I answered.

"I have a drawing-room, and came over to where I was standing. How well I remember the scene! The sun had set and the lovely landscape was shrouded as by a misty veil. The moon was in the sky, and the perfume breeze on the evening air filled the room."

"It was a sweet night!" I remarked.

"She looked calmly from the window; there was no admiration in her eyes."

"It is well enough," she said; and then, laying down her hand, she said, "I have been down for as she was taller than I—into my face, she added slowly, "Miss Gordon does not seem to hate me and my little son."

"I have no reason to entertain any such feeling towards you or the child," I replied.

"How long have you been here?" she asked.

"I have been here since the 1st of February," I answered.

"Time enough for you to grow deeply attached to Jammond Dine," she remarked.

"I love it with all my heart," I confessed.

"You have grown accustomed to receiving a large income—to doing what I did with vast sums of money?"

"I was not long in learning the lesson," I answered.

"Mr. Benson tells me that you have been sun many improvements on the estate—that you have built schools, as hospitals and almshouses."

"It is true, Lady Jemond."

"It is a noble thing, and you are already a model lady of the manor."

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 21, 1884.

The Parcel Post service in Great Britain did not pay at first, but it appears the late Mr. Fawcett discovered the leaks and as usual provided a successful remedy. The service is now a public convenience without being a public loss. It was well if the Dominion government would introduce a similar system to relieve the people of this country from the exorbitant rates charged by express companies.

THE DIFFERENT boards of county superintendents in the State of New York have completed their canvass of the vote cast in the recent election. The result shows that Mr. Cleveland has received the electoral vote of that state, and that, he is consequently the successful candidate for the presidential chair. The people of the United States can now settle down to business, and the newspapers amuse themselves by forming cabinets for the president elect. There is a general agreement that Bayard should take the first position in the new administration.

There is some tendency in England at present to revive the movement which the late Earl Beaconsfield characterized as "Phantom Fair Trade." The business depression which at present obtains in every country of the globe, is severely felt in Great Britain, and some would fain introduce a protective tariff as a remedy for the present condition of things. The agricultural class who have suffered from a succession of bad harvests, and the keen competition of American and Canadian producers would, perhaps, favorably entertain a return to the system which prevailed before the abrogation of the Corn Laws. But any measure which would increase the price of bread would be resented by the population of the cities and great manufacturing districts. The only hope for the British agriculturist is a change in the system of land tenure, and a very marked reduction in the rents at present paid to the great landlords. Many point to the present depression as an evidence that Britain's supremacy as a manufacturing power is on the wane. But such an assertion is made without a proper consideration of the facts. It is doubtful whether the depression in Great Britain is as great as it is in Germany, France, or even the United States, where manufacturing industries are so highly protected. In the latter country it is found that in the face of hostile tariffs, the imports of foreign manufactures, including English cottons, is actually on the increase, while there is a marked decrease in their own exports. Britain still continues to find new markets, as returns show her exports of manufactures and goods continually increase in quantity if not in value. One example will suffice in support of this contention. We have heard a great deal of late how the sugar trade in England was being crushed and ruined by unfair competition. It is found, however, that the exports of refined sugar from the United Kingdom rose from 899,243 cwt. in 1879 to 1,165,787 cwt. in 1883, and that too in the face of continental bounties, which it feared by overstimulating production, in the case of Germany, at least, will precipitate grave financial crises. British arms and enterprise will, no doubt, soon open up new channels for trade. The Nile, the Niger, and the Congo are destined to become little more than highways to the people of Africa. If half that Stanley states is true, the lions of Manchester will soon be more busy than ever in endeavoring to supply cables and cotton to the vast population of the Dark Continent. A very thrilling expansion of prices would bring the present era of depression to a close, and with it all the lamentations concerning the early decadence of Britain's commercial greatness.

LOCAL ITEMS.

The Eagle Mill closed down on Thursday night.

Two dredging dump scows will be wintered in the shipyard and rebuilt for Mr. Munson.

Several malicious parties have been breaking gas lamps lately. It is the intention of the gas works authorities to prosecute all offenders in future.

A large and varied programme is being prepared for the English Church Concert to be given on the 10th of December. The play "Little Sentinel" will be put on and well supported.

The ship O. S. Storrs has been laid up at the shipyard slip for the winter. Captain Yott, the owner, contemplating considerable repairs. The tug Bowen will also be taken out this winter for repairs.

THE BAY VIEW FARM sold some pigs to the Big Store, one of which weighed 300 lbs. and one hog whose dressed weight 24 hours after killing was 508 lbs. Good breeding in pigs is as important as good feeding in cattle and is sure to repay the enterprising agriculturist.

FARMERS CLUB.—There is a strong movement on foot leading to the formation of a Farmers' Club with headquarters at this village. Its purpose will be to unite farmers for mutual advancement in their profession, all secrecy and buying and selling agencies being strictly prohibited. There is a growing impression among our best farmers that they can advance their best interests by united action and free expression concerning the many interests of the farm. Experience has taught that organizations founded on such principles tend greatly to the agriculturist's interests. We sincerely hope this movement will be carried forward and be made interesting and profitable to the farmers in this vicinity.

CHURCH CONCERT.—The Presbyterian Church Concert which was held last evening in the School Room was very successful, considering the inclement appearance of the weather, there being about two hundred present. The programme was carried through very successfully, there being but a slight alteration necessary. The song by the Reverend Mr. Crossley, and the reading by Mr. Bedford the Rev. Mr. Crossley not having recovered his health, and Mr. Bedford having to attend court in Belleville, a quartette by Miss Barnhart and Messrs Foster, Stafford and Caverly was substituted in their place. It could be unfair to praise one more than another as everything on the programme, with the exception named, was very creditably carried out. Mr. Newton performed the duties of chairman. The receipts amounted to about $40.00.

PERSONAL.

Mrs. Herbert B. Rathbun is visiting friends in Belleville.

Mr. Michael Murphy, of Marysville gave us the pleasure of a visit last Saturday.

Mr. Amos H. Baker, of the Rathbun Agency, Picton, spent last Sunday in town.

Miss Annie Edwards is spending a few weeks with friends in Marysville.

Mr. James Sweeney, of Marysville, favored us with a friendly call last Saturday.

Col. Snow, of New York, was in town last Tuesday evening.

Mr. James Hayden, Merchant of Camden East, was in town last Saturday.

The Reeves is enjoying a trip this week to the townships of Olden.

Miss Waterbury has been visiting friends at Napanee.

Mr. W. R. McRae of the N. T. & Q. Ry. staff spent Monday and Tuesday in town.

Mr. A. C. Culbertson spent Tuesday and Wednesday of this week at Cambridgeville.

Miss Eliza Lee, of Marysville, has been visiting Deseronto as the guest of Miss Annie Edwards.

Miss Dean, who was injured so severely at Mr. A. Culbertson's on the Reserve, is progressing favorably.

Rev. I. O. Mallory, who was to have left on Wednesday for his new home in Braceville, Ill., has been detained on account of the illness of his little boy.

N. T. & Q. RY.

The Canadian express Company commences business over the N. T. & Q. Ry on Monday next.

A spur siding is being put in near Wilson's crossing, which will form a depot for cordwood, &c., during the coming winter.

Reports are current that two or three quiet prominent farmers will shortly be arrested for stealing fence wire, &c., from the Railway Co.

W. S. Williams, Esq., Secretary of the Railway Company, is arranging to send samples of ore from the Wagner Mines to the great exposition at New Orleans.

Great improvements have been made to the spur at the Napanee Mills. It is said the Paper Co. propose putting in a spur to their Newburg Mill, which would be a great saving to them in handling wood and heavy freight.

Owing to the switchman at the Granger ballast-pit spur having failed to handle his appliance properly, two ballast cars ran over the embankment, necessitating considerable labor to replace them on track. No further damage was done.

Four car-loads of stone from different points along the line have been taken as samples. They present an excellent appearance, and there is every reason to believe that a large business in building stone will be added to the traffic of the road.

The contractors have finished the yard at Napanee in a manner most creditable; in a very few days they will complete the work authorized by the former contractor. The contractors have made many friends; and their gentlemanly conduct and prompt attention to work.

The construction of offices for the N. T. & Q. Railway Company have been commenced at Napanee on the Grand Trunk Ry. ground. Mr. James Burgess, of this place, will perform the work. The new offices it is unnecessary to state will be a great accommodation to the officials as well as to the public in general.

Mrs. Coleman has received her Christmas Carols, Albums, and a lot of new and fancy articles.

A MARVELOUS STORY

TOLD IN TWO LETTERS.

FROM THE SON: "23 Cedar St., New York, Oct. 25, 1884.

"Gentlemen: My father resides at Glover, Vt. He has been a great sufferer from scrofula, and the enclosed letter will tell you what a marvelous cure."

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

has had in his case. I think his blood must have contained the humor for at least ten years; but it did not show, except in the form of a scrofulous sore on the wrist, until about five years ago. From a few spots which appeared at that time, it gradually spread so as to cover his entire body. I assure you he was terribly afflicted, and so object of pity, when he began using your medicine. Now, there are few men of his age who enjoy as good health as he has. I could easily name fifty persons who would testify to the facts in his case.

Yours truly,

FROM THE FATHER: "It is both a duty for me to state to you the benefit I have derived from the use of

Ayer's Sarsaparilla.

Six months ago I was completely covered with a terrible humor and scrofulous sores. The humor caused an incessant and intolerable itching, and the skin cracked so as to cause the blood to flow in many places whenever I moved. My sufferings were great, and my life a burden. I commenced the use of the Sarsaparilla in April last, and have used it regularly since that time. My condition began to improve at once. The sores have all healed, and I feel perfectly well in every respect—being now able to do a good day's work, although 73 years of age. Many inquire what has wrought such a cure in my case, and I tell them, as I have here tried to tell you, AYER'S SARSAPARILLA. Glover, Vt., Oct. 21, 1884.

HIRSH PHILLIPS."

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA cures Scrofula and all Scrofulous Complaints, Erysipelas, Eczema, Ringworm, Itch, Sores, Boils, Tumors, and all eruptions of the skin. It cleans the blood of all impurities, aids digestion, stimulates the action of the bowels, and thus restores vitality and strengthens the whole system.

DISTRICT. GREEN POINT.

Pictou is agitating waterworks. Money is a scarce article in Malco. There are five hundred patients in Rockwood Asylum. Allertown Allen, a well known citizen of Kingston, is dead. Kingston schools like those of Belleville are fearfully overcrowded. Renfrew has turned over the bonus of $5,000 to the K. P. R. L. C. Scott Act meetings are being held in all sections of the adjoining counties. There were fifty cases at the last division court in Verona. Erinsville held a very successful cattle fair last Tuesday. On Wednesday next the Salvation Army will have a jubilee at Bath. R. Cronk's homestead on Indian Island has been destroyed by fire. Incendiaries. Mr. Judge, living near Sharnbrook Lake, thinks there is gold in a vein of stone upon his land. Rev. F. B. Kelly has resigned the charge of Sharnbrook Lake, the work being too laborious for him. Actions of the success of the Deseronto Cornet Band, Treanta now proceeds to form a similar organization. Mr. Joseph Perry, of Sharnbrook Lake, has been elected to the position of Sheriff of the County and will build a summer home. A young man named Samuel Tucker, of Ramoth, was killed last week in one of Gilman's slambies. W. D. Abernethy, a mail clerk on the Grand Junction Railway, has been arrested on a charge of abstracting letters from the mail.

According to the Atlantic the morals of Kingston are at a low ebb, and the authorities wink at the gambling and similar practices. On Saturday the Conservatives of Lennoxville held a convention in the hall and nominated a candidate for the House of Commons. Two sch. St. Lawrence ran ashore on the False Ducks last Tuesday evening, and for the first time had to throw overboard 600 bushels of wheat. The body of a Myra Ousamare, who died as a result of a fall from a tree, was found in the grave, and was being taken to the Kingston Female Medical College. Thomas D. Horn, Henry Watts and Jas. Hamson, of Wolfe Island, and Robert Matton, of Kingston, were drowned last week while crossing from Cape Vincent. David Barnhart, of Tyendinaga, has been up before the police magistrate of Belleville, charged with trespassing on the premises of J. Bonney, and using insulting language towards Miss Geddes, of Tyndinaga. Henry Smith, a carpenter, has been remanded to jail at Napane to wait his trial for setting fire to a frame house near the glass works occupied by himself and family and owned by John Herring & Son. The house was burned on Tuesday night.

SHANNONVILLE

At Belleville, Ontario, a special request will find their services on Sabbath next in the Salem Church on this circuit. The steam large Kingsford cleared from Lazier's dock yesterday with a cargo of barley for Oswego, but, being unable to make market, prices remain about the same, from 50 to 60 cents. The ordinary services following the late funeral at Lennoxville, which had a moderate interest on Sabbath morning last, several additional names were presented as candidates for membership in the Church. Mrs. Mills, after a long confinement to the bed through sickness, ventured to leave home on Saturday last on a visit to her mother and friends in Pictou. We hope to welcome her home with gladness. Rumor, pretty well founded has it that Mr. Allan Ross and family, who moved from here to Michigan some two years ago will be back again and settle in Sharnbrook during the coming winter, as it was known the Union Jack to the Stars and Stripes.

READ.

As will be seen in another column, Mr. Patrick Buckley, of the 8th concession, died on the 10th inst. Mr. Buckley was one of our oldest residents. He had been ill for some time, and died in the 57th year of his age. His funeral took place on the 11th inst. at St. Ann's Convent. On the same day and about the same hour, Mr. Lawrence Malone died at Lennoxville after a severe illness. Mr. Malone formerly lived on the 8th concession, and was well known in this section. He died in his 69th year, and was buried in the Catholic Cemetery at Marysville. Mr. William Bennett, of the 10th concession, who met with such a dreadful accident has suffered a great deal, and has sometimes been very low, but he is now improving, and hopes are entertained of his speedy recovery. He has improved so much that he was removed to his home from Mr. Byrne's, where he has been staying since the accident. We have had very mild weather lately for the season. A plum tree in Mr. Mortimer Park's orchard was in blossom, and a wild raspberry bush had bunches of ripe fruit on it. Much interest was evinced in the late Presidential election, and the election of Governor Cleveland, the Democratic candidate was hailed with delight, as it will doubtless prove beneficial to Canada as well as the United States. Many of our stalwart young yeomen are disappearing and going to the shanties for the winter. Although the wages are very low a considerable number are going.

Fresh and Salt Pork, Bologna and fresh Pork, Sausages, Lard, Butter, Eggs, etc., cheap at THE BIG STORE.

Go and pick up Eggs, Horses and Cattle, Poultry, Wall Paper, Diamond Dyes, Hair Brushes, Combs and Perfumery. Prices low to meet hard times.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Mr. A. Pierson and Miss Doolittle are visiting Mr. H. T. Carman's. All the ladies in this section is sold and Mr. D. B. Cole is now busy taking in rye for Mr. Crandle, at 50c a bushel. A certain resident of your town, whose name is changed, has been observed to be frequently vacant, he, we think, convinced that Prince Edward girls are in pursuit of him, and he has decided to reside in your town, leaving his home in the city.

Mr. Thomas D. Lyons was stricken down with paralysis on Tuesday 10th inst. He had just returned from Pictou and had walked to a neighbor's house, where he spent the evening in his usual health. When about to start for home he attempted to take a drink of water, but he could not swallow nor speak and soon sank down apparently unconscious remaining in that condition until Monday 17th, when death ended his sufferings. The funeral took place on Wednesday 18th at Pictou where a large gathering followed him remains to their final resting place.

VENNACHAR.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Well sir I suppose you are more than wondering why I have not sent you news yet. Now I will be honest and tell you the reason. On the 31st of November I went to the hospital and was confined to my bed, and at night they held a religious meeting. The opportunity was given to all Orangemen, who did not have to go to the hospital to obtain it if they felt so disposed. There were four others besides myself who consented to ride the next morning, and I picked up my first horse more than I can get through my cranium. Imagine my situation, how weak I became, and the knees. I believe I would have given up in despair, had I not thought of brave John Maynard and followed his example. They tell me a girl will test ten times worse if he has a little more to do for his horse, and I guess they fed this one for a month on nothing but pepper. Why I thought sure Barum was out for me, and I was, but he had been, and there had been a great deal better for me. This took place on the 5th, and to-night I am a thousand times worse than an old hen. I am not able to sit. Now if you have no knowledge of Orangemen's degrees, just ask the Royal Mayor of Deseronto to read you the "Royal Bumper Degree," and then you will have a fair idea of it. I expect. In this you have the secret why I did not write before. Now we are on our way home. To make my case more critical, my wife, which was composed of boys and girls, tipped over, of course I could not smile, and there I sat skimming my teeth, while the neighbors were laughing at my wife's caps off—and, oh heavens, what sights and wonders—you would have sworn it was a bad and shoe shop standing on its head.

LOCAL ITEMS.

Read Meagher's charge of advt. What vacant seat is that to which our Green Point correspondent refers? Mr. Jacques Mosher, a workman in the Big Mill, had his face badly bruised on Wednesday while working at the gang. The Oddfellows celebration which was arranged to take place last Friday evening was successfully postponed to a later date. A whole herd of cattle now graze the different sidewalks, and yesterday they were so numerous as to recall memories of the Quarterly Fair.

Next Sunday will witness even greater interest in bicycling, and young men in Deseronto who require an elegant bicycle will find it to their advantage to call on Mr. S. G. R. C. CARTER, of Kingston, who has a large stock of bicycles and is prepared to supply them at a low price. A meeting of the East Hastings Liberal Conservative Association will be held at the club rooms in Belleville on Saturday afternoon at 8 o'clock, for the purpose of appointing delegates to attend the convention at Toronto.

We have received a copy of "The Mission," a little paper published in Belleville, and whose editor is Mr. A. Schuster, our missionary. Volunteer subscribers will receive the paper by paying any amount they may think proper, the profits to be applied to the Mission.

ROLLER SKATING.—We have for some time been suggesting the propriety of erecting a good skating rink in Deseronto, and now we are glad to hear that Mr. James Cameron is preparing to build a large roller skating rink 65 x 24 on the lot adjoining his property on St. George street.

The tug Sir John and dredge Ontario coaled up at this port on their way to Sharnbrook, to Kingston last Monday, under the direction of that veteran sailor Capt. Anderson. The officers and crew of both tug and dredge will be much missed in this locality. Capt. Lee, the manager, is a gentleman who fully understands his business, the dredging of the Napanee river and Sharnbrook harbor having been skillfully accomplished. A terrible accident occurred Wednesday last about the erection of the telegraph line of the N. T. & K. Y. R. R. Two men employed at the erection of the telegraph line of the N. T. & K. Y. R. R. were standing around a fire drying some material used in blasting and while they had been frozen during the previous night. The still suddenly commenced to slide when those two men reached for it to save it. A terrible explosion followed by which one of them was killed outright, the other was fearfully mangled. They were both Frenchmen from Quebec. Our two medical men were both called professionally to Prince Edward last Monday afternoon. On account of the dense fog that prevailed that day they were two hours on the passage of the placid waters of the bay before they could discover sight of the shore. One of them had a most beautiful stock of cigars, and they managed to comfort themselves by viciously pulling away at the fragrant weed. They are now enigmatically referred to as the "Two of the bridge," so THE TRIBE has two all at last to support it on this important point. Let it be noted that the action of the Board of Health in the face of the cholera and small-pox epidemics to which we may soon be exposed.

THE RESERVE.—The Indian Department appears to be giving more attention to the condition of the Indians in the other provinces, and to be actuated by a desire to increase their welfare. This is well. The Inspector is now insisted on both tenancy and Indians carrying out certain improvements in order that the land may not be exhausted as heretofore was too often the case. This policy is in the interest not only of the present holders, but of future generations, whose waste must be anticipated in pursuance of old treaties with the Indian population. The following applicants for leases have been accepted during the past week:—John Henry, Thos. Green Jr., Francis Brown, Paul Deane, J. Davidson, John Marsh, Samuel Minto, Joseph Patterson, Thos. Rayburn and Alex. Woodcock.

I.O.F.—The Independent Order of Foresters of this town are making wonderful progress in membership and financial standing. Their ambition is to become the Banner Court of this Province, and if the good wishes of their many friends avail they will succeed. We understand the members are making arrangements to open a set of free reading rooms for the winter season, and in this respect they have won our entire approval. The following officers were elected for the ensuing term:—D. E. Howatt, G. R. McKee, V.C.R.; W. C. Palmer, J. S. J. Burgess, R. S. John Hoopes, J. W. J. Munton, S. W. Wm. Woodhouse, F. S. Arthur Carter, Chaplain; M. Wilkes, R. R. and Isaac Allen, B. The officers will be installed on the evening of Monday, December 1st.

Every person who has worn the "Nappa" tanned gloves, speaks in the highest terms of their wearing qualities and beautiful appearance. We have been shown a number of pairs of these gloves that have been worn a year and they are now to all appearance as good as new, any person requiring a walking or driving glove should secure a pair of the "Nappa Tan." A complete stock of lined and unlined, is kept at THE BIG STORE.

The Nova Scotia Sugar Refinery has been shut down for a couple of weeks owing to illness in trade.

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 21, 1884.

TOWN AND COUNTRY.

CHURCH NOTES AT THE TRIBUNE OFFICE.

REV. T. STANTON is having a large barn built east of the rectory.

The Big Store makes some important changes in their advt. this week.

Mr. C. E. Hubbs spent last Friday at Hay Bay, where he was very successful in bagging ducks.

The Howard Clifton Company performed before excellent houses last Saturday and Monday evenings.

The steam barge, Jennie, of Port Rowan, arrived here on Saturday loaded with coal for the Rathbun Company.

Mr. C. A. Millener was laid up this week having received a blow on the knee-pan which was attended with much pain.

Mr. W. B. GRAHAM, has returned from Cobalt where he has been painting the engine building recently erected by Mr. Jas. Burgess.

Alderman Baker, that good natured dispenser of Crown Jewels spent Sunday in town as usual, he is always welcome among his loyal constituents.

MR. A. GOODMURPHY left on Tuesday to attend a great sale of boots and shoes at Cobalt. Great bargains may be expected in that line on his return.

MR. EVAN J. EDWARDS, of Centre street, will take orders for singing canaries and birds of every description, which he has at present an interesting collection on hand.

MR. JAMES BOOTH having completed his contract at the Chemical Works, has been busy this week putting a second coat of plaster on the new extension of the school-house.

MR. WATSON'S night school is steadily growing in numbers, a very large number of boys taking advantage of this excellent opportunity to get an acquaintance with the three R's.

MR. JAMES ALLEN is busy erecting a fine cottage on the west side of Second street, between Thomas and Dundas streets. He expects to have it all closed in and probably fully completed this week.

MR. WORRELL MARKS had a narrow escape from being killed while at work last Wednesday morning at the old dry kilns. He managed, however, to get off with a few scratches on his face and hand.

THE stmr. Alexandria is on her last trip for the season. While coming down from Trenton last Sunday she became bewildered in the fog, and was compelled to tie up and wait several hours at Eagle Mill.

A MEETING of the village council was held in the town hall on Monday. The amount of business transacted was small. James Sennitt and Peter Adams had their poll tax remitted, as were also the taxes of Jas. Aull.

A THUMP gained access to the Methodist Church last Saturday evening and took up his quarters there for the night. He was discovered in the morning by Mr. Chris. Cronk, and after a stormy interview was summarily evicted.

A VERY dense fog prevailed all day Sunday. It is said that several young men were, in consequence, unable to distinguish the familiar faces or figures divine of their best girls at the close of the evening services at the different churches.

ST. MARK'S CHURCH was uncomfortably crowded last Sunday evening with a large congregation. The Rector preached and the musical part of the services was very attractive. Howard Clifton and his choir giving valuable assistance.

PEOPLE who are unable to get up early can see the Star of Bethlehem by looking a little south of east at 7 o'clock in the morning. Advantage should be taken of the fact, as the opportunity of seeing this star will soon be gone.

WE have received some very elegant specimens of penmanship from Mr. McKay and Wood, of the Dominican Business College, Kingston. This college is now in a prosperous condition with an increased number of students in attendance.

TELEGRAPH LINE.—Mr. Charles Dryden has secured the right of way for a telegraph line between Napanee and Deseronto Junction, thus connecting Deseronto by an independent line with Napanee and points along the Napanee, Tamworth & Quebec Railway.

VACCINATION.—With that dread visitant small-pox at Tweed and other points of the country, comes the necessity of using every precaution to prevent its ravages should it appear. There should be a general order for vaccination by all the residents of Deseronto and vicinity.

MR. JAMES ANDERSON, the watchmaker, has given up his business here to open out in Port Hope. He desires us to state that he has been aware that Deseronto had in Mr. Snider such a competent workman with such an extensive and well selected stock, he would not have been induced to start business in Deseronto.

THE new Rideau barge line was launched from the shipyard on Tuesday evening and dimensions are 100 feet in length, 24 feet beam, 34 feet hold, and her capacity is about 225,000 feet of lumber. She is a very strong craft, and will be a great addition to the Rideau fleet of the Rathbun Company. She, as well as the Bedford, will be towed by the Nile under command of Capt. Daly.

H. R. BEDFORD, Esq., has made a purchase of an excellent Grand piano, a circumstance of this kind is usual policy to enjoy life.

VISITORS to Belleville will find very comfortable quarters at the Queen's Hotel. It has been newly furnished and has good ample rooms.

Bay View.—Over half a mile of old ditches have been cleaned and two miles of new ditching opened on Bay View farm during the past season.

THE rumour that burglars had successfully gone through Snider's jewelry store was not correct. They have not yet paid a visit to that establishment.

THE heavy trade for vessels seems to be a little more lively now than heretofore, owing, no doubt, to farmers rushing in their grain before close of navigation.

POLICE COURT.—William Craig, aged 18, was charged with knocking down and kicking Ada Bowen, aged 13, and on conviction was fined $2.00 and costs; total $3.25.

MR. T. BERTLER informs us that a large grey wolf was recently killed by some of the hands at Samuel Alexander's shanty. Two of them had been prowling around the neighborhood for some time previous.

REV. I. O. MALLORY preached in the Methodist Church last Sunday morning to a very large congregation. In the evening he conducted services in the Church of the Redeemer, the church being completely packed with the united Methodist and Presbytery congregations. The service was particularly hearty and impressive.

THE Ontario Business College, of Belleville, whose advertisement appears in our issue of the 14th inst., need not need any words of ours in its favor. Its students come from all parts of the continent, and the wonderful success of its graduates is the best test by which to estimate its value as an institution for imparting a commercial education.

AS soon as the ground is frozen, it is a good plan to draw manure and other material, and spread it around fruit trees. It often prevents the ground from thawing until softened warm weather in the spring, and thus saves fruit buds which might otherwise be pushed too rapidly by spring frosts, or by intensely severe weather the latter part of the season.

THE past season has witnessed a marked improvement in the general appearance of the town, and a general disposition has been observable on the part of residents to have everything look neat and well. Mr. B. Rayburn, of the Flour Mill, has been particularly successful in his efforts to have the surroundings of that great establishment kept in apple-pie order.

SCOTT ACT.—A mass meeting under the direction of the Lennox and Addington Scott Act Association will be held in Rathbun Hall, this evening, at 7:30 o'clock. Rev. B. B. Keeler, the well known advocate of the Act, will address the meeting, and answer the objections of the other important questions connected with the present agitation. Ladies are cordially invited.

NAVIGATION NOTES.—The schr. Magla's discharged a load of coal on Monday. The schr. Erie Belle, went up to Napanee last Saturday to load grain; this is the largest vessel that has gone up the river for some time. The tug Munson, with dredge and scow, will lay up in this port for the winter. The tug D. Bowen will undergo a complete overhauling at the shipyard this winter.

A FULL representation of the members of the Executive Committee, agent the Scott Act is earnestly desired at its first meeting in Stirling, Nov. 27th, at 2 p.m. All persons of local organization, members of the finance committee, county officers, and clergymen, ex-officio, constitute such committee. There can be no objection to any anxious voter being present. It is to be hoped that all the conveners are busy organizing the different municipalities. F. B. STRANDBERG, Sec. S. A. A.

HARVEST DISASTERS.—Wednesday night 12th inst. the schr. D. Freeman was struck with a small opposite Adolphustown which caused considerable damage by the breaking her bowsprit, at the cap and also her jibboom in several places. She was towed to Deseronto, where Mr. Evans took measurements to replace them. She was then towed to Belleville by tug Bonar, where she unloaded her cargo of coal. This vessel is commanded by Capt. Nathan Allen, of Amherst Island, and owned by Messrs. Downey & Allen.

THE entertainment in the Presbyterian School Room next Tuesday evening will be of a most interesting character. The young folks have been keeping the matter very quiet, but sufficient is known to put people on the tip-toe of expectation. The forty girls who have been under training for some time back perform their evolutions with military precision, and their singing is pronounced superb. The rise of the curtain will, it is stated, display a scene of dazzling and fairy splendor never before witnessed in Deseronto.

A BUSY DAY.—On Saturday, Nov. 15th, there was shipped from Deseronto by rail and water as follows:—437,000 ft. lumber; 75 cords of posts; 185,000 shingles; 22 car-loads of wood; 1 car-load of doors; 1 car-load of lath; 10 loads of factory goods; 2,500 bushels of barley; 1 car of flour; 75 tons of feed; 30 tons of flour; by steamer: 3 tons of flour by wagon; 1 car of lumber. It appears to have been a day of greater activity than even we are ordinarily accustomed to in this busy metropolis.

SMALLPOX.—An outbreak of smallpox has occurred in the township of Hungerford, about four miles from the village of Steco. The disease was brought into the locality by a Frenchman named Griore, who was attacked by it on his return from the province of Quebec. No one knew what his ailment was, and nothing was done to prevent the infection from spreading. A bee was held at Griore's, and the result was that J. Griore was smitten with the disease and died from it. The Sinclair family were also attacked, and Mrs. Sinclair and one of her daughters died from the disease. Two deaths have occurred in a family named Patterson in the same neighborhood. Now that the worst is known, the inhabitants have established a sanitary cordon about the infected district, within which no one is allowed to penetrate, and from which no one is allowed to go out.

MR. J. G. HAYMOND, local superintendent of the Bell Telephone Company, placed a telephone in the residence of Mr. C. E. French on Wednesday.

AMONG the list of successful mariners at the recent regatta at Kingston, we are glad to notice the name of W. B. Rathbun, of Deseronto.

NEXT week the fast train now running between Toronto and Montreal will be taken off, the passenger travel on the Grand Trunk not warranting their continuance at present.

E. HARRISON, 350 Front street, Belleville, keeps on hand a large assortment of books, music, and musical instruments. Book orders in all the branches. Send in your orders.

M. H. W. CARTER, recently sold a handsome yoke of steers, three rising four years, to Mr. Peter Ruttan, of North Frontenack, who was most admired by judges of cattle.

WONDERFUL CUTTING.—On Wednesday night the count of logs cut in the Big Mill this season up to that date, was found to have reached the total of 300,000 with 117 acres to spare. If good weather continues there will be a large number still to add to that score.

LENNOX.—Judge Armour has declared the Lennox election for the House of Commons voided through the bribery of agents of both candidates. There is now a talk of Mr. Pruyn opposing the election. If good weather continues there will be a large number still to add to that score.

MR. R. H. THIMBLE, so well and favorably known as the ever genial proprietor of "Cheapside Dry Goods Store," is arranging to leave Deseronto. He has purchased the business of a Napanee merchant, and will remove his stock to that town immediately after Christmas. We regret very much to make this announcement, and that the town is to lose a man so well known and so successful. He has made himself popular since his advent among us, and by careful attention has built up a splendid business, but he thinks he can do even better in his native town, no doubt, he has given the subject careful consideration. A perfect master of his business, and well known to the public, he cannot but succeed, and we wish him all success in the new venture on which he will soon enter. He will receive many a call from Deseronto visitors to Napanee.

THE harvest of the Bureau of Agriculture for November shows that the harvest of grain crops has been even more bountiful than appeared by the estimates of the last August, and for a gratifying contrast to the tables of last year's harvest. The quality of the grain, too, is generally excellent, being plump, hard and heavy. Barley, however, is not so good. The quality is of the harvest season, and the bulk of it does not rank higher than second grade. What is remarkable free from defects of any kind. The grain is above the standard weight, and the average yield of the spring and fall varieties is 22.3 bushels per acre, or 0.6 more than last year. The total yield of wheat is 13,491,607 bushels. The quality is of an unvarying excellence, little or no damage having been done by the bug. Beans and corn were also an unvaried success. The condition at the end of July, made a surprisingly good recovery in August, and steadily improved to maturity. The yield reaches an average of 22 and 74 bushels per acre respectively. Last year both crops were destroyed by the early frost. The root crop is generally an excellent one, especially potatoes, mangel-worms and carrots. Turnips suffered to some extent from the August drought, but they are of good quality. Apples are plentiful and of good quality. The average of wheat sown this year appears to be somewhat less than last year, but the land at seed time was in a much better condition than last year, and the young wheat has made a vigorous growth.

HOW TO DO IT.—The congregation of the Methodist Church, of Deseronto, cannot be too highly congratulated on the success of their efforts during the past season. The past season opening and attendance exercises speak well for the energy and Christian zeal of pastor and people. The handsome crowded hall was filled to the brim. The handsome display of every kind of useful and ornamental work, and so well patronized was this department, that before the close everything had been sold. A grand tea was served in the dining-room, which was continually packed by crowds of visitors. The keen bracing air of Tuesday, and the tempting and profuse display of nibbles, soon to have whetted the appetites of all to the last degree. Certain it is, that after this long and varied experience, we have never seen more successful efforts to carry away the quarter's worth than we did last Tuesday evening. That the supply held out is the best evidence of the profusion with which the tables were provided. About 7 o'clock the Deseronto Cornet Band put in an appearance, and played a number of inspiring selections on the lot of the evening. At 8 o'clock the concert and entertainment commenced in the church. W. B. Rathbun, Esq., occupied the chair, and in some introductory remarks gave a statement of the financial condition and obligations of the congregation, showing a debt remaining of $1,400. After earnest addresses by Messrs. Pearson and Mallory, subscription papers were produced, and all present invited to subscribe. At first there was some natural diffidence, but there was no resisting Mr. Mallory's appeals, and before long the audience had rolled up an amount of about $1,200. The proceeds of the Ladies Aid entertainment footed up the handsome sum of over $1,000. The regret expressed by all present at the unavoidable absence of the Rev. Mr. Crosley, the pastor of the church, who was unfortunately detained by his bed by an attack of malarial fever, and thus prevented from participating in the pleasure of this auspicious occasion. The whole event shows what may be done when people unite and work harmoniously to accomplish their purpose. The Methodist of Deseronto have done nobly.

GOD BLESS THE DEAR FIRESIDE!

Come, let us gather round the hearth,—

Let every one to rest!

There is not a spot o'er all the earth,

With deeper loving bliss.

There the face a loving wife; And the heart may fill with pride;

And offer up to Heaven the prayer:—

"God bless the dear friends!"

The world without is chill and cold,

Novel airs are drear!

But home and fond affections hold

Live welcome and good cheer.

So let us gather closer yet,

And heart to heart connect;

While in our prayers we never forget—

"God bless the dear friends!"

We've been together now for years,

Entwined in love's dear chain;

We've shared each other's hopes and fears,

We've shared our joys and pains;

God kept our family circle whole;

God taught our love to grow;

O, hear the longing of each soul,

"God bless the dear friends!"

Good Cheer.

In the autumn of this year Champlain returned to France leaving Pierre Chauvin in command at Quebec. He then saw for the last time his stout friend, the Hon. J. V., so anxious to reach the mouth of the Saguenay.

DeMonte, the patron of the colony, was unable to obtain a renewal of his trade monopoly, and resolved to return to France without it. Accordingly in the spring of 1810, Champlain and Fontaine again set out for Quebec. They found their companions there in good numbers, none of them having died during the winter, partly because they had abundance of fresh provisions.

Champlain, agreeing to a proposition made to him by several of the traders, to aid them against the Iroquois. It seems that the latter to the number of one hundred had been making

St. Lawrence, and when near the mouth of the Richelieu they were surprised by the Indians. Hastily erecting a barricade of trees, Champlain, with a few of his men, fought desperately; but the opportune arrival of Champlain and a number of his men turned the odds against them, and the Iroquois were forced to retreat.

When Champlain returned he heard the news of the King's assassination, and knowing that DeMonte would no longer be able to maintain himself in Canada resolved to return to France, leaving Du Parc with sixteen men to hold Quebec.

Early in the following spring Champlain was again at Quebec, from which he went to the Island of Montreal to select a site for a permanent port there. He met his friend, the Hon. J. V., who was then in the Grand Lakes and the Ottawa to trade, and in one of their frequent conversations he learned of their friend's cause he saw the rapidity of St. Louis, being the second white man who had accomplished this feat. He found the whole country filled with traders, who were taking full advantage of the fact that Du Parc was not yet able to hold the monopoly.

He again returned to France and set vigorously to work to reorganize the company and obtain for it a powerful favorite at Court to shield the enterprise from the assaults of rival interests. Such an one was found in the person of the great Comte de Montcalm, the father of the great Comte de Montcalm, who was then in the Grand Lakes and the Ottawa to trade, and in one of their frequent conversations he learned of their friend's cause he saw the rapidity of St. Louis, being the second white man who had accomplished this feat. The Dairyman's Best Way for Enhancing Profits.

There is profit in keeping cows warm in winter. It costs much less to turn down the cold, car versus extra food by providing extra bedding. It costs less to keep cows warm than to furnish extra food year after year to replace heat needlessly lost by exposure to cold air. I do not know of any other way to reduce something, in this direction toward reducing the cost of milk, and I believe it is possible for dairymen to reduce the cost of milk. I have seen this done by several men who thought they were losing their stock pretty well before they began to keep their cows warm in winter.

There is but one other source of needless expense in the production of milk, which approximates in magnitude the waste of heat. It is the waste of milk. The loss of a half of a full and steady supply of good milk-producing, feed through the whole of the milking season, is almost as great as the loss of a half of the milk. The public of New York having freight enough to provide for even a more midsummer drought, I have seen a protection in winter, the cost of milk made something like twice as great as it should be. Let the cows be so fed and so milked that the loss of milk in their milk, except from the natural decrease due to the time of coming in; and let the losses keep to a minimum, and the cost of milk will be less money in dairying. It is a better, as well as a more effective way of enhancing profit, than by endeavoring to produce more milk, which only diminishes consumption by increasing

Wintering Plants in Cellars.

Many plants, such as agaves (century plants), oleanders, large cactuses, etc., that are too large to move to the flower garden, can be kept in a sitting room or conservatory, can be successfully wintered in a moderately dry, cool-proof cellar. After placing these large plants in a cellar, the grower should give them any water, the object being to keep them dormant all winter, which can be done by keeping the soil dry as possible. If the plants are allowed to grow, they will shrivel, or become withered. Large plants of this kind mentioned, often form admirable ornaments during the summer months, and can be placed in the flower garden when they are brought back and put in them into the house, in winter, but they can be kept for years by cellar- ing over the winter as stated. Large geraniums, fuchsias, and other plants, such as roses, and carnations, can be kept modestly well in the cellar by trenching them dry, or moderately moist sand. These plants are specimens of these plants that are loth to pull up and throw away when new ones are put in. It can be successfully kept in the next season. It is a needless expense to throw away plants that are in the garden every year, when we can winter dry of the old ones in this simple and inexpensive manner. The leaves of all plants should be cut off before the plants are put away in this manner. The plants should remain on the oleanders and magnolia through the winter.—American

It is life's ruggedness, its discipline, its temptations, its trials. The discipline of life is here good and there evil, no trouble and there joy, here roughness and there smoothness, one working with one other; and the alterations of the one and the other which necessitate adaptations constitute a part of that education which makes man a man, distinguishes from animals, which is no education. The sulphur volcano rises from the brink of the lake, very near to a so-called "Pink Terrace," which, in point of fact, are distinguished from the "White Terraces" by the most delicate tinge of pale salmon color, like reflected sunlight on snow. The sulphur volcano produces a most startling effect of coloring in contrast with the vivid blue of sky and lake. It is entirely yellow—just the color of a bright primrose—and the great column of steam ascending from it is primrose-bued, and all the water near it is tinted, while the peaks far and near are coated with a deposit of pure sulphur.—[C. ### A New Theory Regarding What's in

Dr. Julius Pahlman, a local geologist of

The channel of the great river which I remarked upon at the beginning of the excursion deeply, and the valley of the great lakes was formed. When the Arctic climate again changed into a temperate one, the ice melted, and the waters, and in its melting spread over the land the ground-up material as well as the rocks which had been caught up and carried down by the valley of the great river. The sands, and others more or less completely filled up with drift. The channel of the old Tonawanda river from the old Tonawanda to the old Buffalo, still remains, and the bed it had occupied became the bed of the channel of the great river. The Erie and Ontario formed the large bodies of water, and were the same level, that is, their surfaces were on the same level. The waters of the lakes in the lakes began to subside, and a mud flat appeared between them, extending from Buffalo to Lewiston. The outlet of the lake Erie was the outlet of the lake, and we have the present Niagara river.

George W. Fox was over on the coe few days ago, and has brought back with him quite a curiosity in the shape of a fragment of an abalone shell with an infant's foot, shoe and all, incased in a hole in the interior of the shell. The shape is perfect, and indicates a very young child. The toes and the sole of the shoe are visible. The shoe is so small that it may be picked out with a pin and needle. The buttons are covered with abalone, and the button hole where one of the buttons is pulled off is seen also the little tassel at the ankle. The body of a drowned infant must have been carried along by the tide and the foot passed into the open shell of the shell fish, which was closed down and the imprisoned foot held until it was covered from the body by decay; in the meaning off of the member, and was not covered over with the shell. It is reported that a woman and her child were drowned off the coast about seven years ago, and is supposed that the foot is that of the child. (B. and C. (Ch.) Gazette)

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 28, 1884.

On the lakes there are 1,070 American vessels, and 328 Canadian vessels. There are besides 840 American steam vessels of all classes, and 332 Canadian steam vessels. These figures do not include the St. Lawrence river barges. The tonnage is estimated at 897,750 tons.

YESTERDAY was Thanksgiving Day in the United States. How becoming it would be for the President of the Great Republic and the Governor General of this great Dominion to unite in recommending the same day for this purpose. The spectacle presented by the people of nearly a whole continent uniting at one time in common thanksgiving to God, for mercies received, would be truly sublime.

LENNOX, the scene in late years of so much party strife, is once more the battle field on which the two great political factions are again to contend for supremacy. The Conservatives have already chosen their standard bearer, and on Saturday the Reform Convention will meet to choose their candidate. While Mr. Pryn is personally by no means unobjectionable, there is no denying the fact, that, under present circumstances, his nomination must prove prejudicial to a large and important section of the Conservative electors of the county. Mr. Allison, on the other hand, may be entirely innocent of any illegal acts during the former contest; but the revelations made during the late trial show, conclusively, that many of his personal friends were guilty of unblushing bribery and corrupt practices, and for these acts he will be treated by many as directly responsible. The electors have thus two candidates saddled upon them by the machine; and yet candidates whom very many consider ill-calculated to represent the constituency. Under the wretched system which allows months to elapse before a vacancy is filled, we may expect to see Lennox invaded by a legion of unscrupulous partisans and tricksters from all parts of the province, debauching the electorate, and otherwise endeavoring to get a verdict for the parties they serve. After a close contest the result, whatever it may be, will be hailed as a great triumph for the present government. The usual protest will follow, with more revelations of undue influences, and a declaration by the judge that the election is voided. It is natural to ask where all this see-sawing is to end, or if something cannot be done to prevent it altogether. There must be large number of reasonable and moderate men in the riding who are tired of these incessant and useless faction fights. If these were only willing to shake off the yoke of party managers, and bring out some moderate man upon whom they could rely, they would soon find themselves with a large following, and it would not be beyond the possibilities that they would carry the constituency. Such an effort would, doubtless, expose them to much obloquy, but they would have the satisfaction of knowing that they had performed a patriotic act even though failure were the result. In the recent struggle in the United States we have an exemplification of what can be effected in this manner. It must have required no ordinary courage for Mr. Curtis and others to leave their old friends and espouse another cause. They had, however, the courage of their convictions, and to the action of these independent electors of Mr. Cleveland is principally due. A grand opportunity is now presented to the electors of Lennox to make a new departure, and initiate a new order of things, which could not but produce a great moral effect upon the whole country.

It is said that there are some cases in Bridge-water and Tweed, but this is not confirmed. Stages are allowed to carry passengers from the infected district. Vaccination is the order of the day in all parts of the County.

GRANDER BLOSSOMS.—An event which has been the subject of expectation for some time occurred at the residence of Mr. Robert Geddis, last Wednesday afternoon, the occasion being the marriage of Mr. Daniel H. Brewer, to Miss Eliza, daughter of Mr. Robert Fairbairn, of Pictou. The ceremony was officiated by Rev. R. J. Craig, Pastor of the Church of the Redeemer, and was witnessed only by the immediate friends of the bride and groom. The bride, one of our most popular young ladies, wore a dress of bronze-green silk with satin overalls of the same shade, and like all brides looked very pretty. Although the affair was of a private character the bride was the recipient of a large number of presents from friends in Deseronto and elsewhere. Immediately after the ceremony the happy couple took the train. Quite to Pictou. The TRIBUNE joins their many friends in wishing them a life of continued happiness and prosperity. The following is a list of some of the presents: Miss Aggie Fairbairn, of Montreal, silver butter cooler and set of dishes; Mrs. Macdonald, Montreal, set of silver napkin rings; Miss Maggie Philbin, Montreal, toothbrush, pin cushion and hair receivers; Miss E. Philbin, Montreal, hairbrush, toilet set; Miss Eliza Fairbairn, of Ottawa, valuable wreath of sea shells; Mrs. Peter Fairbairn, of Ottawa, pair of vases; Mrs. Alexander, of Huller, fancy cushion; Mr. and Mrs. B. Brewer, butter dish; Miss Gerow, fruit dish; Mr. and Mrs. H. Colborne, fruit dish and pair of vases; Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Greutrix, fruit dish and bread plate; Miss Stoddard, fancy bag; Mr. and Mrs. D. R. McKee, elegant lamp; Mrs. Douglas, a lamp; Mr. and Mrs. John Gibson, fancy toasting chair; Rev. R. J. and Mrs. Craig, album; Mr. G. Snider, butter knife; Mrs. Geddis, set of dishes; Mr. R. Geddis, purse of fifteen dollars.

DRESS PURSUE.—The inclement weather of Tuesday evening by no means prevented a very enjoyable entertainment on the occasion of the Children's Dress Concert, held under the auspices of the Ladies Aid Society. The Rev. R. J. Craig was called to the chair, and a few minutes after to the music of a march played by Mr. & Mrs. M. Campbell, forty girls dressed in white filed on stage and performed a number of intricate evolutions with remarkable precision, and to the pleasure of the audience. After an opening chorus, Miss Jennie Brown sang a solo in a most creditable manner, and this in turn was followed by a Quartette by Mrs. Geare, Mr. & Mrs. Campbell, and Mr. Smith. This excellent contribution was most deservedly enjoyed and responded to. The Duet "Baby Jumper" by Misses Gordon and Closs, and Miss Maude Anderson's "Little Buttercup," were well received. Mrs. Geare having sung "Coming thro' the Rye," Miss Ada Burgess, one of our most promising young singers, rendered the solo "Blind Girl" in character. The duet "Two Merry Alpine Maids," by Mrs. Geare and Campbell, was rapturously applauded. Another chorus, and the Tableau "Faith, Hope, Charity," was presented. Miss Ella Conley and Miss Ada Burgess followed with solos, and Mrs. Geare and Campbell gave the duet "Two Merry Girls," which elicited another hearty encore. Miss Ada Ferguson sang the "Beggars Girl" in character with much spirit, and was, in consequence, heartily encored. The "Queen of the Night" was rendered by Mrs. Campbell. Mrs. Campbell has a sweet and highly cultivated voice, which, on this occasion, was particularly noticeable, and her effort was appreciated by an encore. The comic song by Miss Lura Brown, was irrepressible, and fairly carried away the audience. After a chorus and tableau, "God Save the Queen" followed. Mrs. Heribert B. Rathburn played the different accompaniments during the evening. Mrs. Campbell, to whose patient efforts the success of the entertainment is due, cannot be too highly complimented, on the manner in which the children carried out her instructions, and the unusual excellence of the musical treat provided for the occasion.

GRAT THRESHING.

To the Editor of The Tribune.

DEAR Sir,—Will you allow me space in your valuable paper to tell some of the farmers who have had an airing through the columns of THE TRIBUNE, my experience of last week's threshing at Mr. Jacob E. Rathburn's on the Reserve near Shannonville. We threshed 1,200 bushels of oats, 741 of barley, 28 of wheat, 52 of rye, and 70 of peas. This, I think, is very good from 100 acres this year; besides he has 500 bushels of the finest looking potatoes I have seen this fall. The new Ten-horse Power Thresher and Cleaner, owned by E. & H. Rathburn, turned out two bushels of barley a minute by the watch for some time, and cleaned it a great deal better than I have seen some sold on the market for No. 1 barley.

The St. John Johnston, Public School Inspector, has been visiting the schools in this neighborhood during the past week.

On the 15th inst., he inspected school Section 10 on the 25th con. taught by Miss Calary. This school has had a very large attendance during the year, and after the inspection, Mr. Johnston stated that he found the school in excellent condition, and expressed himself as well pleased with the results of his examination. Miss Calary who has been teaching in this section for the past two years, contemplates resigning at the end of the present year, much to the regret of trustees, parents and pupils.

On the 19th inst. the inspector visited our school. Mr. Johnston spent the forenoon in the routine inspection. Your correspondent was not present at the examination, but was informed that the inspector was much pleased with the condition of the school, and the admirable system adopted by Miss Jones. This young lady holds a second class diploma from the Ontario Normal School, and obtained the $50. prize at the summer session. Miss Jones has been most successful in the management of the school and has given complete satisfaction to the trustees, parents and pupils, by whom her faithful labors have been duly appreciated. It is to be hoped that the trustees may be able to secure her services for another year.

Much excitement has been caused throughout this section owing to the breaking out of small-pox at Stoco, Hungerford. The schools, taverns, mills, and all places of public resort have been closed. The Rev. Mrs. Blake did not faint. She did not even revile her future daughter-in-law. Percival's manner told her that words to this effect would be wasted. But she entertained her son, by every claim she had up on him, to do nothing hurriedly. Of course she objected to his desire; but she knew her objections would have no influence upon a man so madly in love. But she prayed for delay—literally went upon her knees and besought him not to be married for twelve months. A clever woman was Mrs. Blake. Who knew what unforeseen things might happen in a year?

It is very possible that whilst pressing this invitation on Philippa Mrs. Blake thought: "She has lived in London. A woman of her extraordinary appearance cannot be forgotten. Some one must surely know all about her."

Mrs. Russell was willing enough to go home. Mrs. Blake's lip curled as she thought why. She said nothing, but before going to bed telegraphed to her son, bidding him come at once.

He turned from the river path and struck across the field toward the Hollies. He had

TOWN AND COUNTY.

VACCINATE.

CHIEF CLERK OF THE TRIBUNE office.

T. G. PILE, Esq., has been making an extension to his premises on St. George street.

MR. L. BAXTON, the popular west end
tonorial artist, inserts a card in the columns of THE TRIBUNE.

A. PERLIN, the Frenchman injured by the explosion of dynamite on the N. T. & Q. R.
R. died on Saturday.

AGRICULTURISTS will read Seth's letter in another column, and then settle their little hearts for some time to come.

The new lighthouse on the steamboat
dock has been completed, and a powerful gas lantern is being placed in position.

The copious fall of rain last Sunday was very acceptable, but will contribute very materially to improve the health of the whole community.

MR. T. N. CARTER, during the past week,
paid a very pleasant and profitable business trip to Cochrill and other points along the Central Ontario railway.

SAGER BROS., who have been so successful in working up a first-class business in Deseronto, claim the attention of the public through our advertising columns.

MR. PHILIP CONLEY has erected a neat feet in front of his residence on Second street. Much commendable public spirit is shown by the residents on that avenue.

The storm on Sunday was very severe and the fall of rain unusually great. The attendance at the different churches was,
under the circumstances, not so very bad.

The Bay of Quinte Clerical Association
held a successful meeting last week at Stirling.
Rev. Rural Dean, who has been making an interesting address on the temperance question.

ONE of our town clergymen while making a pastoral visit in the east end was attacked by a vicious dog, but fortunately escaped from its incisors without very serious injuries.

F. S. RATHBUN, Esq., is introducing gas into his residence on Centre Street, and several other parties are applying for the introduction of the new light into their shops
and houses.

HEXLOCK boughs laid over strawberry plants in the fall are found very useful in preventing the heaving of the ground by frost, and prove very conducive to the vigor
and growth of plants.

REMEMBER the snow by-law and let the boardwalks be kept clear during the coming winter. The City will not allow this unnicipal regulation to be disregarded as heretofore has been too frequently the case.

If a strip of matting were placed on the sairs of the Rathbun Hall, the noise caused by the incessant running up and down stairs,
which is an indispensable part of the programme at every public meeting in Deseronto, would not be half as annoying as it is at present.

A NUMBER of the docks along the bay
are already in need of repairs. It is at present hazardous for steamboat men to risk their vessels in stopping at them, especially when a heavy wind is blowing. If not repaired during the coming winter, it is probable there will be no landings made at them
next season.

MR. ROWE, the proprietor of the Patent
Spring Horse Shoe Works at Stone
Mills, has sold out to Mr. Wilson, of Dundas. A number of residents of Prince Edward lost considerable money by this enterprise. The machinery is being taken out and will be shipped to Deseronto and Bay of Quinte Railway.

SILMURTEL—Several indignant citizens
have requested us to refer to the shameful conduct of the group of young ladies (?)
whose proceedings elicited such a stinging
rebuke from the lecturer at the Scott Act meeting last Friday evening. Mr. Rowley has delivered addresses in all parts of Canada, and he never witnessed such conduct before. They are so atrociously disreputable disgraced the fair name of Deseronto.

AFTER all, the thoughtless or ignorant people who disturb public meetings by laughing and talking about men, or by rudely jumping up and walking out during the meeting, are not so much to blame. As no one has ever dared to check them for such conduct they consider it all right. None of the constituted authorities of last Friday evening's meeting came to the rescue of the stranger, and it was thus left to himself to perform the disagreeable duty in self-defence.

CHEAT slates, pencils, paper, &c., at THE TRIBUNE office.

Mr. Moore, the great evangelist, will visit Toronto next week and hold a series of meetings.

HILMAN MILLER, a young lad working in the cash shop, had the fingers of one hand
injured by a saw the other day.

The pupils of Mr. Watson's night school
give an entertainment on Tuesday evening,
Dec. 10th, in the Rathbun Hall.

We understand that the Reeve is not ineligible for office having all the property
and other qualifications required by law.

LARGE numbers are now subscribing for
THE TRIBUNE to send it to absent friends.
They can make no better Christmas present.
We would direct the attention of the ladies,
to the advertisement of Miss Shaw, late
of Watertown, N.Y., which appears in another column.

Mr. D. R. McRae has fitted up a neat and elegant office in his establishment on St. George street. He reports an unusually brisk business this fall.

Rev. J. D. DRYMAN, of Picton, most ac-ceptably occupied the pulpit of the Methodist Church last Sunday. Mr. Crossley, the pastor, is gradually though slowly improving.

The popular purser of the steamer Hero was recently left at Amherst Island while the steamer made the round trip. It is said he more than enjoyed the period of enforced captivity.

MR. ROBERT ELLIOTT, of McKelvey &
Birch, Kingston, has been busily engaged for some weeks putting a new system of water and sanitary appliances into the residence of Mr. E. W. Rathbun.

The Tuesday Mr. Conrad Simmons slipped
and fell, his head striking the boardwalk.
He remained unconscious for about an hour
but we are glad to learn that he is fast recovering from the effects of his injuries.

The cheap and popular publications on sale at THE TRIBUNE office are being most extensively patronized by the people of Deseronto. A pleasant and instructive book can be purchased at any price from 10 cents upwards.

The Ladies Aid Society of the Methodist Church, by their usual kindness and forethought, are putting down carpets in some of the rooms and halls of the new parsonage.
Mr. Crossley entered on possession last Wednesday.

MESSRS. HEGGARTY and CAMERON are getting into the new roller skating rink, which is already closed in. It can not be opened until the season is over, but it is a public hall for the purpose of mass
meetings and entertainments.

PENDING the construction of the new bridge, Mr. John Frost, the eminent bridge builder, has during the past week been making preliminary surveys with the view of spanning the bay with a temporary structure during the next winter.

The 16th of December is rapidly approaching, the date of the grand entertainment of the season under the auspices of St.
Mark's Church Literary Society. The 16th of December, he sure to remember, and don't you forget, A reserve ticket to get.

A THEAT—The people of Deseronto will not be glad to learn that Rev. Horatio Bright, who has been making a tour of giving a selection of readings at St. Mark's entertainment on Dec. 10th. Mr. Parker's reputation as an eloquist is sufficient to ensure a full house on this occasion.

CHRISTMAS is coming and people are beginning to scan the advertising columns of THE TRIBUNE to see where they can expend their money to advantage. They search for the live-give-ahead-up-to-the-times
merchants, grocers, bakers, butchers, sallers, shoemakers, &c., from whom to buy their holiday presents.

We received an interesting letter on Wednesday from Mr. Herbert C. Foster, formerly of this office. He has safely arrived in California after an exceedingly pleasant journey, making the distance from Smith's Falls in six days and six hours travelling time. He thinks he will like the Golden State, and find the change conducive to good health.

MR. JOHN COLEMAN, photographer, has
resolved to give up the profession of artist,
and has purchased a fine property near Brighton, where he will go to devote his time to fruit raising. Mr. Coleman made himself very popular in Deseronto and succeeded in making his studio a complete success. We wish him all prosperity in his new home and business.

AN OLD fisherman on Lake Ontario, makes some curious observations on the nature and habits of some fish. The bulbuline he dressed were almost invariably filled with clams a out the size of a grain of wheat,
which in this stage are as delicious as the best oyster.

The mudcats follow in the order of time, the pike and pickerel on the shoals and sand bars industriously hunt and devour all the eggs they can find. The mudcat is, in fact, a jolly, extravagant, high living fellow. No wonder that nearly every one is so fond of this combination of
veal, venison and fish.

THIS morning about eleven o'clock
Daniel Sova, of Deseronto, a sailor on the schooner Jessie McDonald, while drunk, went on board the schooner Speedwell which was lying at Rathbun's dock. In getting over the rail he fell to the dock, striking a projecting spike and then rolled into the water. He was pulled out and taken to Rathbun's office. Dr. Milne was called,
and upon examination, found that the spike
of Sova's thigh was in the fleshy part of his leg, and that he was somewhat bruised but that his injuries were not serious.—Oswego Palladium.

A FAIR audience assembled in Rathbun
Hall last Friday evening, to hear the lecture on the Scott Act by Rev. B. B. Keefer.
This distinguished advocate of temperance has been and is being heard in all the provinces and practical way of enforcement and illustrating his arguments, and he imparted much valuable information concerning the Act, and the benefits which have attended its adoption in other counties. He explained the difference between the Scott Act, pointing out the many defects which are in the latter,
and the improvements which had been effected by recent legislation. Time did not permit of a discussion of the barley question which plays such an important part in the present campaign.

CHARLES ADAMS, a Frenchman from Montreal, has been arrested in Belleville for burglary.

Mr. Mix leaves in a day or two for Toronto to make extensive purchases of millinery for the holiday season.

The County Council is at present in session in Belleville. The Warden has directed attention to the necessity for a permanent action to prevent the spread of small-pox.

NEXT Monday evening the crew of the Hero will pay their respects to Capt. Craig provision in his departure for the American side, where he intends to make his residence.

NOTICE.—The senior division of the Deseronto School, will be publicly examined by the Inspector next Friday afternoon, December 10th. Parents and guardians of pupils and the friends of education generally are particularly requested to be present on this occasion.

ENCORE.—The Children's Dress Concert,
having proved so successful, it has been decided at the earnest solicitation to repeat it
next Tuesday evening in the Presbyterian School Room. There will be many important features in the programme, and as the tickets are placed at ten cents, there will be a very large attendance.

MR. J. W. WAY has purchased the photographic business lately carried on successfully by Mr. Coleman. As will be seen by his advertisement he asks a continuance of the patronage so liberally bestowed on his predecessor. He has also bought out Mr. English, and offers for sale a large assortment of toys, picture frames, fancy
goods &c., of which he invites inspection
at Smith's brick block.

At a full meeting of the Choir of Queen Street Methodist Church, Kingston, a resolution was passed thanking E. W. Rathbun Esq. for his kindness and hospitality on the occasion of the Old Folk's Concert in Deseronto, and as a proof of their appreciation, it was further resolved to forward a large photograph of the choir as they appeared in costume on that occasion. Mr. Rathbun has received the picture which is most admirably executed.

EAGLE MILL.—The Eagle Mill, at Ros-
more, closed down on Thursday, 20th inst.,
after a season's work. It was composed of
There was a happy absence of serious accidents, while perfect harmony prevailed between officers and workmen. Mr. Ralph Murray, assisted by Mr. Chas. Hoar, will proceed with repairs and improvements necessary to put it in order for next year's work.

THE Rev. I. O. Mallory, left for his new home at Braceville, Illinois, last Tuesday afternoon. Braceville is about sixty miles from Chicago in the midst of a rich country.
Mr. Mallory has been a most welcome visitor to Deseronto and greatly enjoyed his visit. We predict great success for him in his new field in the west. He has promised to favor THE TRIBUNE with some correspondence as soon as he is fairly settled down to work.

GRAND SUCCESS.—The attendance at the Dominion Business College, Kingston, is steadily increasing. It is composed of young men and women of energy, ability,
and ambition. Parents having sons and daughters to educate cannot better prepare them for the duties and responsibilities of an active business life, to make their own living and become self-reliant, industrious, prosperous citizens, than by a course of training in this institution.

THAT BRIDGE.—An important step has been taken towards the erection of that railway and ordinary carriage traffic bridge,
which we have been advocating for some time
back. We observe that J. S. McQuais, ex-M. P. for Prince Edward, has given notice that application will be made at the next session of the Dominion Parliament of Canada, for a charter for the construction of a railway from the town of Picton to a place at or in the vicinity of Deseronto. For a ferry, and for the construction of a swing railway bridge at or in the vicinity of the said Picton's point or ferry, or at some other convenient place across the waters of the Bay of Quinte, with a view of connecting with the Bay of Quinte Railroad. We presume the charter will be granted, and that the Dominion Government will also give a bonus to aid any company that may be formed to construct the railway. We are still of the opinion that the Local Gevernment, which has never done much for this Bay District, should either build or give a large grant to erect the bridge,
which will be for the benefit of the whole
district, and will be a great boon to the people of this Bay District, and other members of the Local Legislature, without distinction of party, would use all their influence with the Dominion Government, to secure the erection of the bridge, and for the sake of no railway the bridge is a great necessity.

AGRICULTURAL EDUCATION.—We have a circular from Henry Wade, Esq., Secretary of the Agricultural and Arts Association,
announcing that the second annual examinations in subjects having a direct bearing upon practical agriculture will be held at the same time, at the same place, and subject to the same rules, regulations and supervision as the High School intermediate examinations of July, 1883. Intending candidates are required to send in their names, accompanied with a statement as to whether
they have ever attended any agricultural school or college in Canada or elsewhere, and also of the place at which they desire to present themselves for examination, to the Secretary, before the 1st of May, 1884. At the second examination only second and third class certificates will be issued. Besides these money prizes of the value of $25, $20 and $15, respectively,
will be given to candidates for second class
certificates making the greatest number of marks, and prizes of the same value to those who receive second class certificates who have never attended an agricultural college,
and $20, $25, $20 and $15, to the four candidates for third class certificates who never attended an agricultural college. We hope to hear of many candidates from this portion of Ontario. For full information
address the Secretary, who will forward circulars.
